Highland High School, in its seventeenth year of existence, is located in central Madison County. Just northeast of Anderson, Highland was under the jurisdiction of the Anderson Community School Corporation for the second year. An addition of eight classrooms was added to the southwest corner of the building and was opened in November. Highland provided educational experiences for 1427 junior and senior high students.

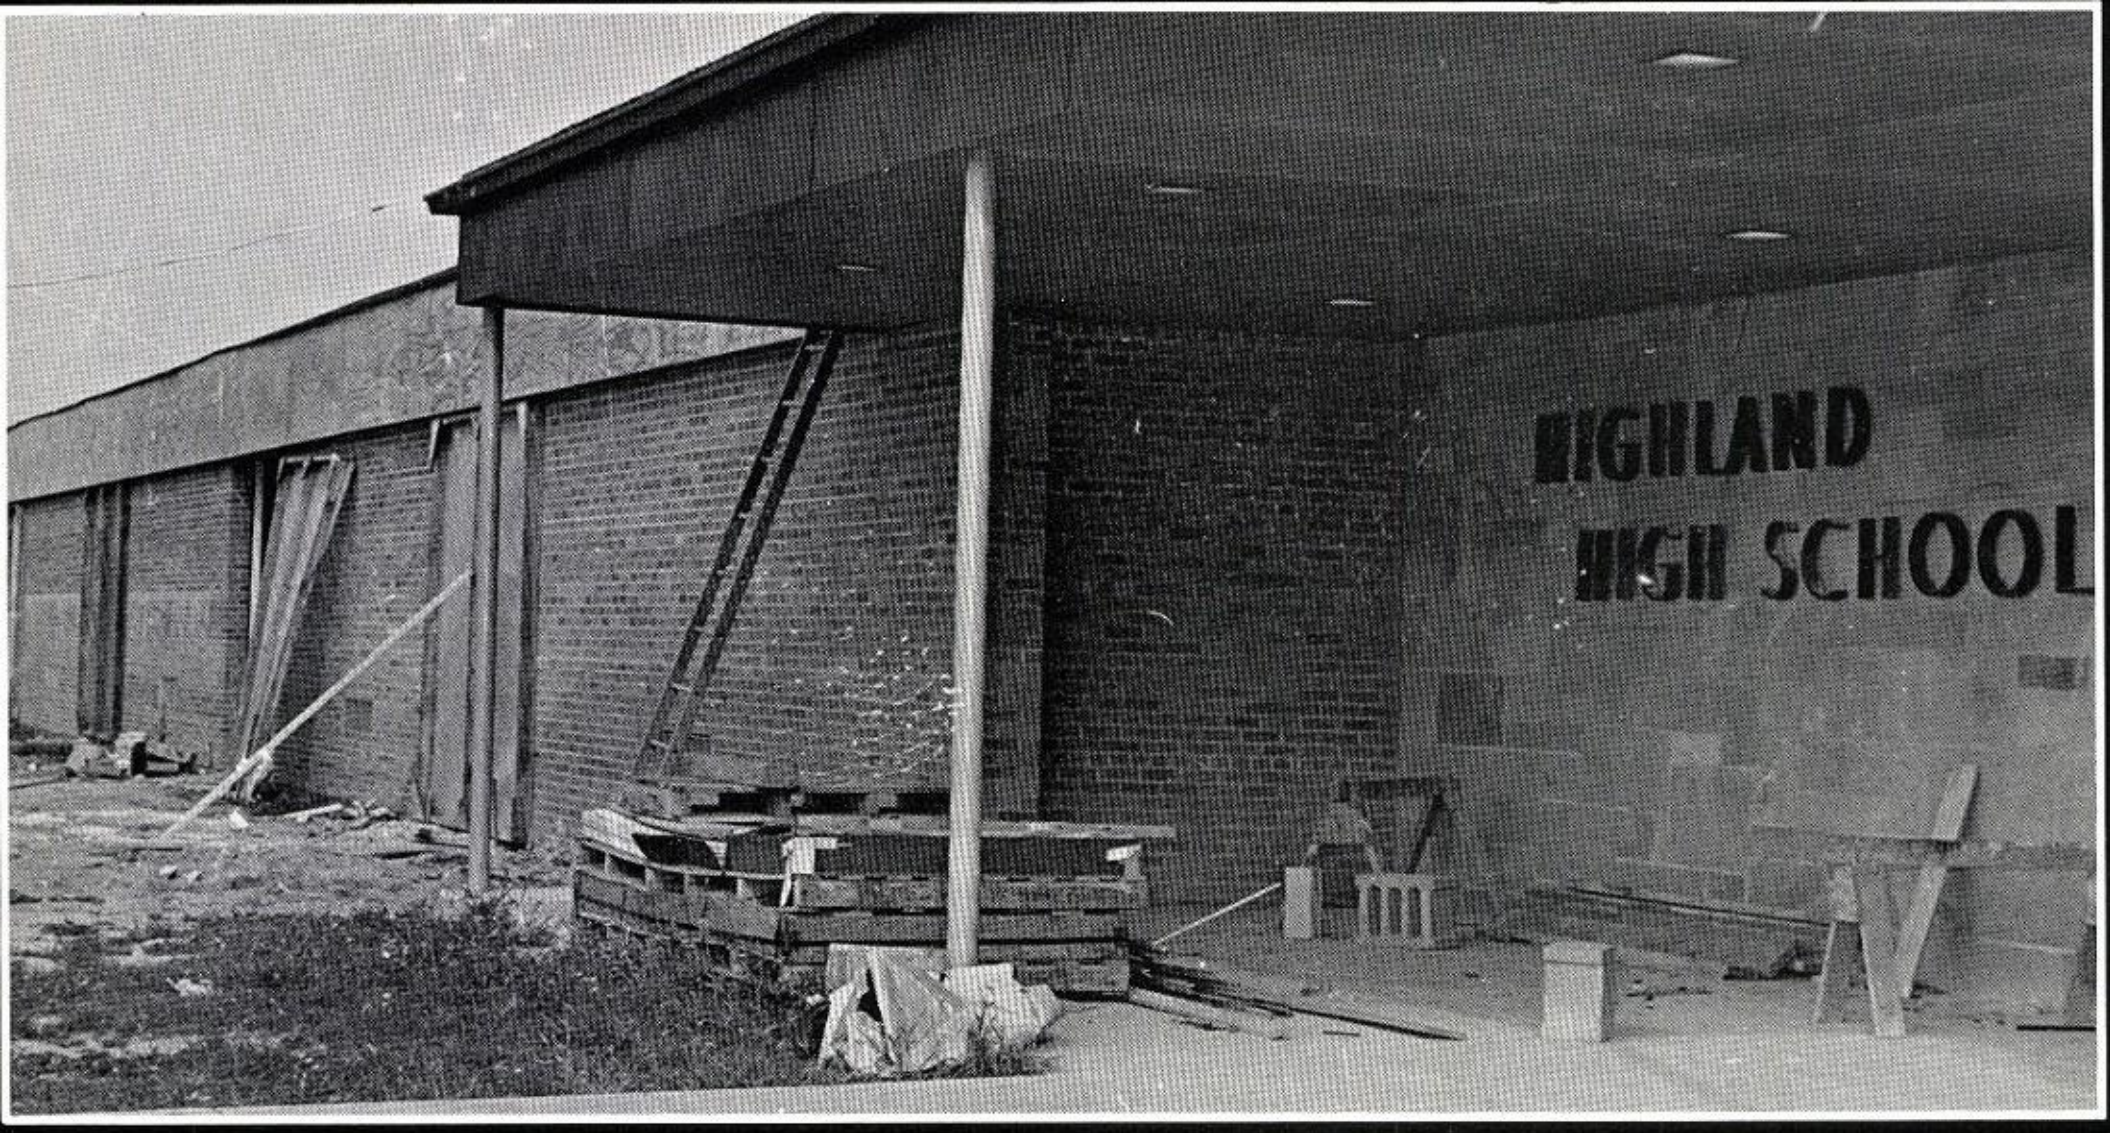
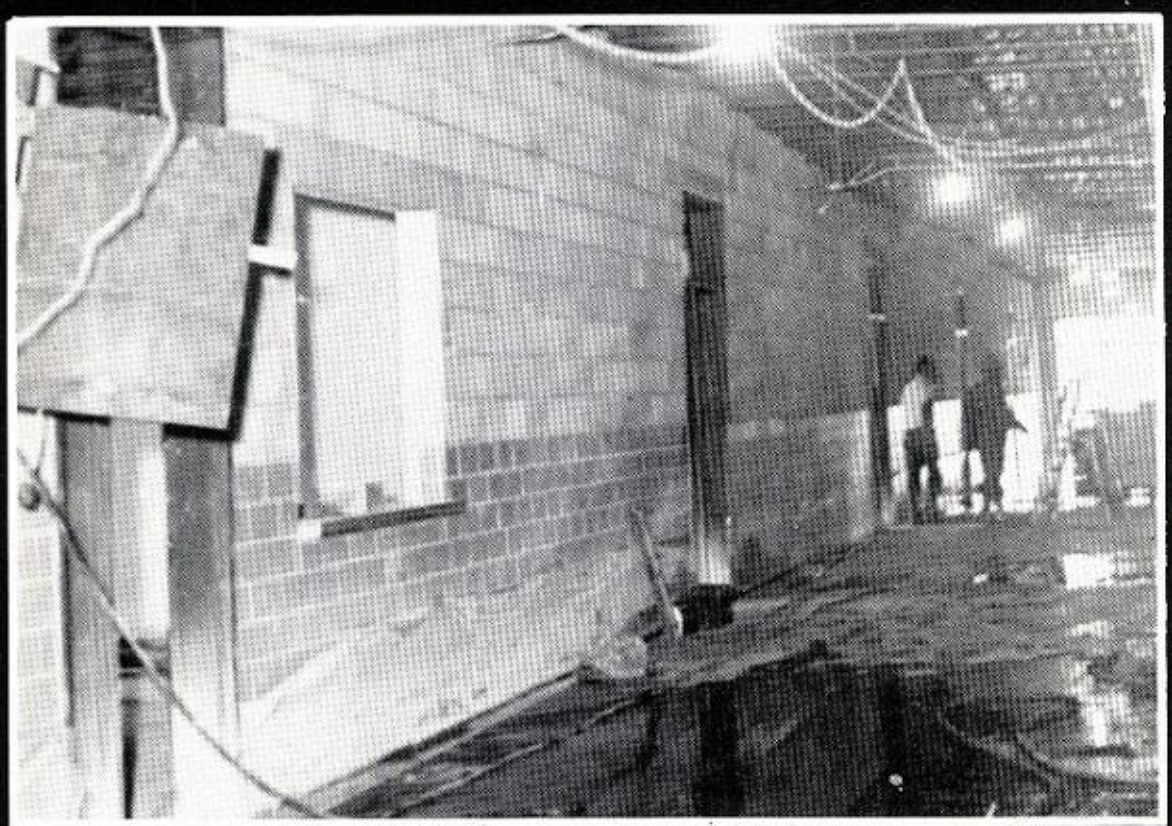
Highlanders, alumni, reunite for Yearbook Day

On August 20th, alumni, and vacationing students gathered on Highland's campus for the annual Yearbook Day. The 1972 yearbooks were distributed and friends gathered to exchange words of wisdom on the endsheets of their Highlanders. The main attraction then took place on the east parking lot where the Marching Highlanders performed their State Fair routine before proud parents and students. Highland band boosters prepared ice cream and desserts for parents and students who attended the annual festivities.





Crowded conditions relieved by addition

In an effort to relieve the crowded conditions at Highland a new wing was added to the south hall on the west end. The new addition contains the bookstore, two restrooms, and eight classrooms.

Construction was started early in the summer of 1972 and was scheduled to be completed for the beginning of the school year. Delayed equipment set back the completion date; consequently, by Janurary 21, classes were moved in and the overcrowded conditions were temporarily relieved.

Freshman boys, Senior girls wheel to a victory

Mounted on miniature 'Trikes,' the senior girls pedaled to a victory in the first event of the second annual Fall Festival on October 20, 1972 at 4:30 p.m. The freshman boys were the victors of the bicycle race that followed.

Shortly after 4:30 p.m. 24 fun-filled, food-filled booths, representing clubs and organizations, opened for business along the make-shift midway.

From Tacos to apple cider, and an egg throw to a car bash Highlanders were entertained until 7:00 p.m. The rest of the evening was topped off with the parade and Homecoming game.

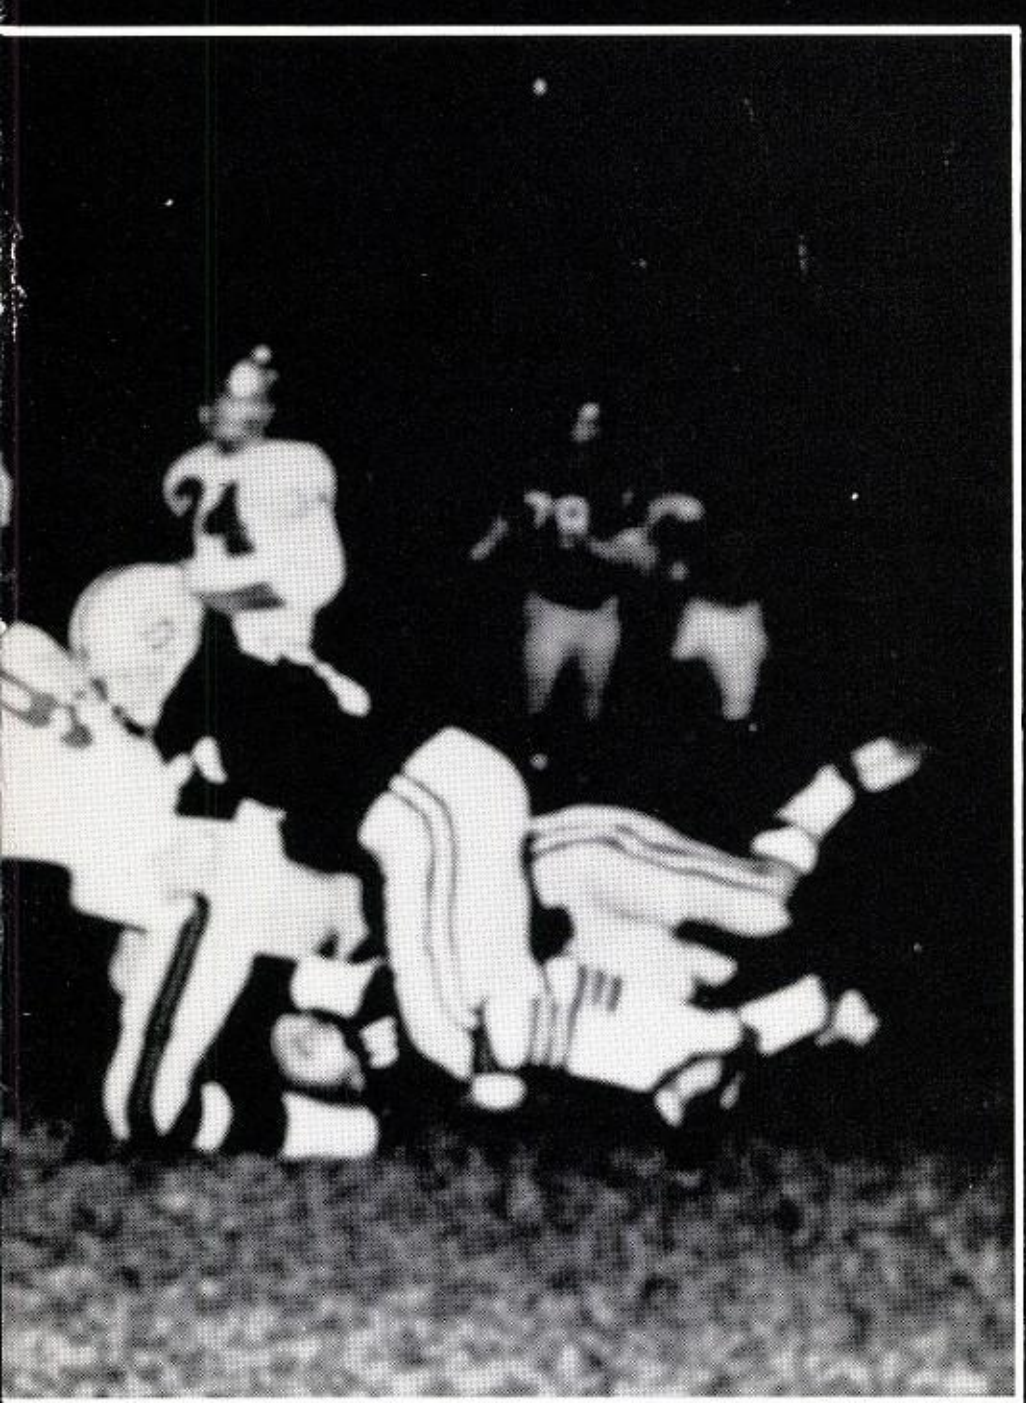
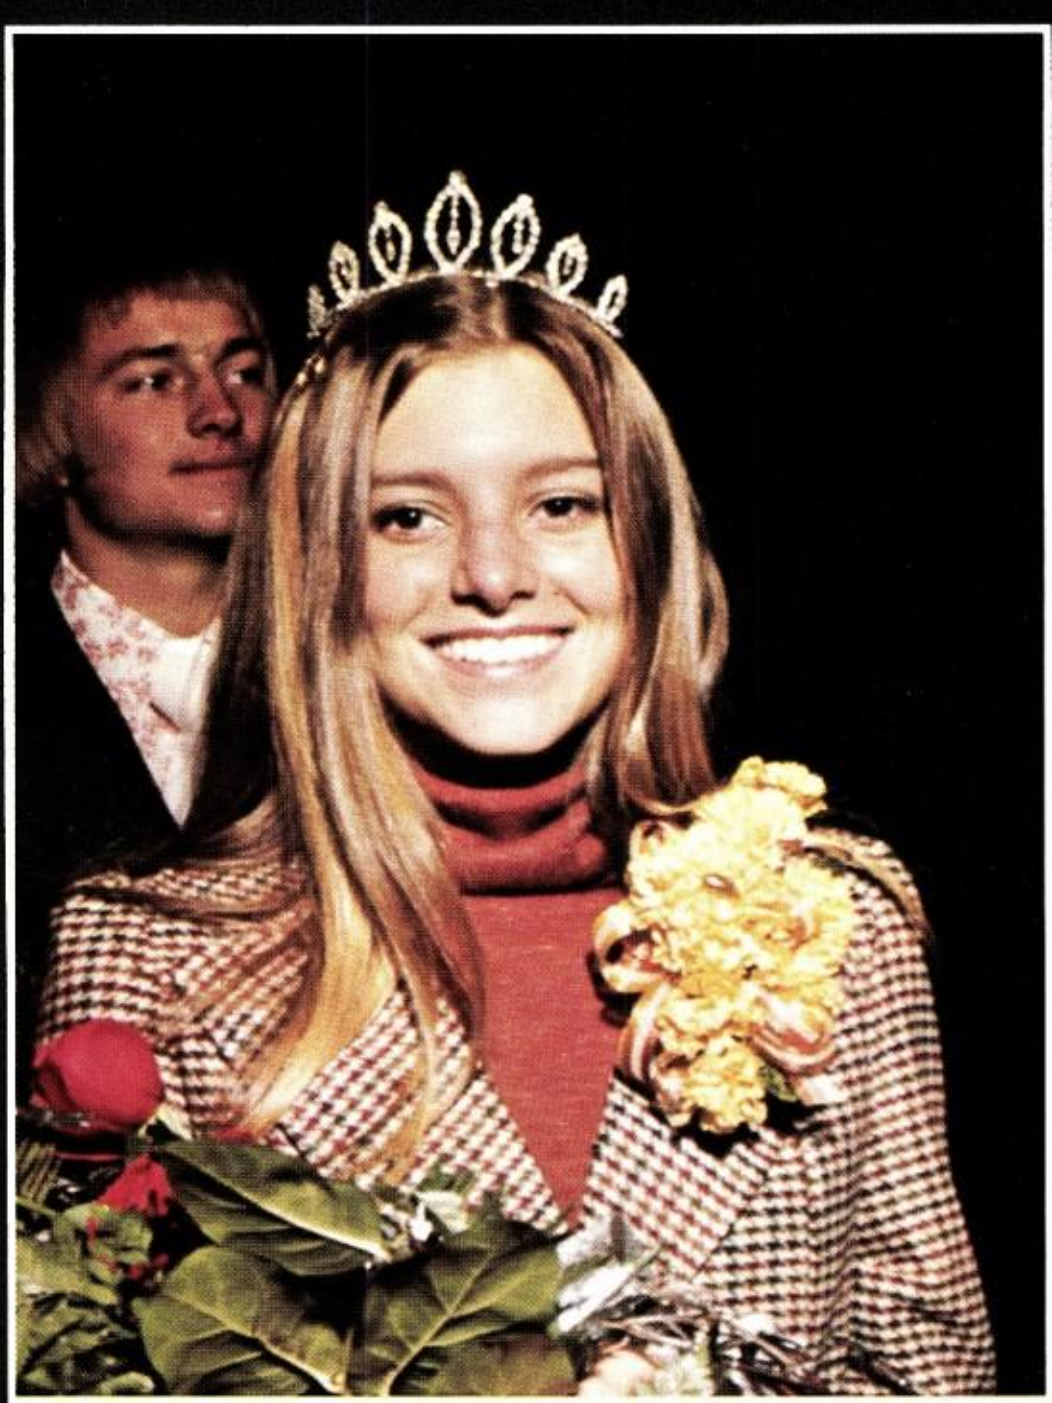
A week of float building, plus the selection of queens and princesses and the organization of booths for Fall Festival led to the seventeenth annual Homecoming held on October 20, 1972.

The colorful parade of queens and floats began at 7:00 p.m., followed by the clashing of the Scots and the Shenandoah Raiders at 8:00 p.m.

At halftime the band's presentation of the 1972 State Fair routine was followed by the announcement of the Senior float winning first place, and the crowning of Miss Leigh Hill.

The Scots "Short Changed" the Raiders 49 to 20. "Sparks" continued the Homecoming spirit at the annual Homecoming dance until midnight.





Drama Club reveals tragic life in a Nazi Concentration Camp

THE DRAMA CLUB'S fall production of "I Never Saw Another Butterfly," was presented on October 19 and 21 in the HHS Gym.

"BUTTERFLIES don't live here in the ghetto," was the reaction of 12 year old Raja Englanderova (played by Debbie Radford), a Jew in a Nazi Concentration Eamp in Terezin.

THE TRUE STORY told that over 15,000 young people were sent to Terezin. Of these, only 100 survived. One of the survivors was Raja Englanderova.

New 'wing' opened at OPEN HOUSE

Parents, teachers, and students congregated in the halls and classrooms of Highland High School for the eighth annual Open House on October 23.

Highland's doors were opened at 6:00 p.m. for visitation. This gave parents a chance to meet teachers and talk over any problems with students. Refreshments prepared by the cafeteria were served by Student Council.

At 8:00 p.m. a program was presented by the band and Highland Singers. Also a demonstration of the new gymnastics equipment was given by the Girl's Physiology and Fitness Physical Education classes, instead of the traditional varsity intra-squad basketball game.

Nixon and Nation mourn deaths of last former U.S. Presidents

While many people were rejoicing during the holiday season, tragedy struck the political world.

Former President Harry S. Truman died on December 26, 1972, at the age of 88. As flags flew at half staff in honor of the late president, death struck former President Lyndon Baines Johnson on January 22, 1973, at the age of 64.

In a public speech, President Richard Nixon announced the plans for releasing Prisoners of War in Vietnam. The long, tedious war was finally coming to a close as the result of a peace treaty under the direction of Presidential Advisor Henry Kissinger.

Blankets of warmth, instead of snow, cover HHS

Winter, when did it come? This year seemed to indicate that winter was gone from Anderson. Very little snow, warm temperatures, and clear skies appeared to lead to an early spring. The snow fell sparsely, but what did fall was a reminder that winter was still a part of Indiana.

It was the first year for the student talent show sponsored by student council members, Freshmen Bruce Cook and Kathy Brown. The group "Unlimited" placed first, members of the group were Tag Grunden, Mike Mechem, Larry Mechem, Henry Connelly, and Don Wolfe. Other performances by students were Mick Gilliam, Cathy Dixon, and Gary Robinson.

The Music Department also provided entertainment at convos from the Highland Singers and Junior and Senior High Choirs.

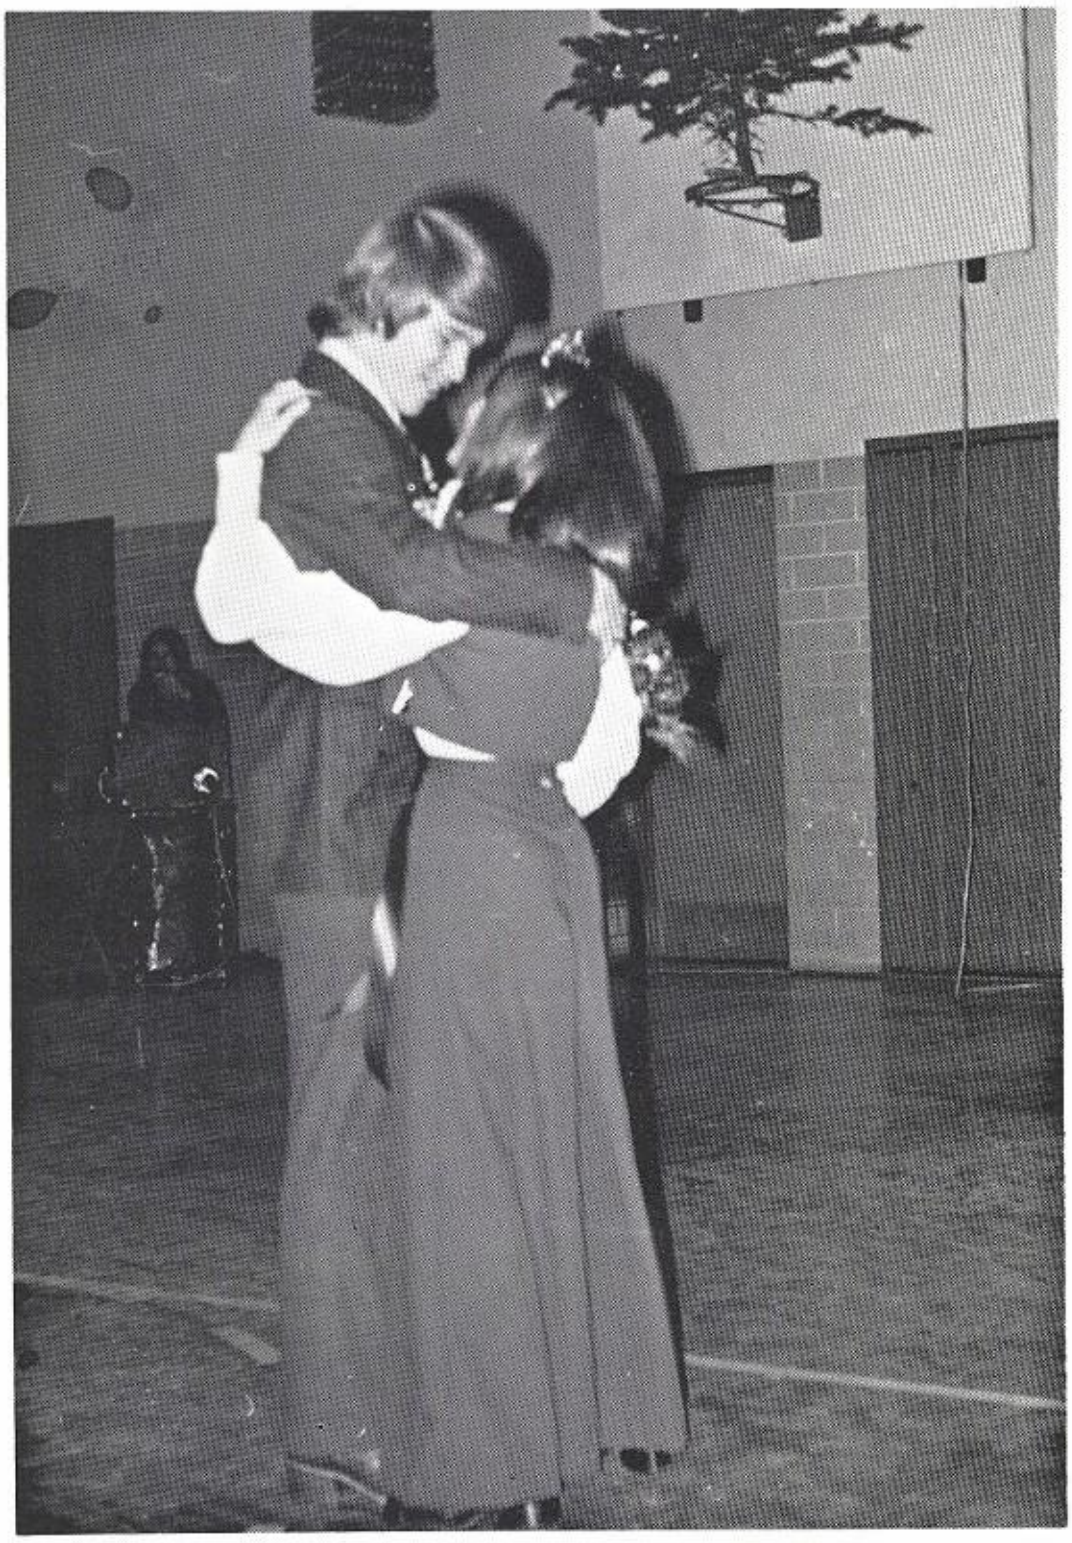
Cathy Kreigh chosen as Miss Highlander



The Christmas season approached its destiny with the Highland students reaching their peak of excitement. Christmas vacation would shortly be here and the annual Christmas Dance was anxiously awaited.

"Santa's Enchanted Wonderland" was the theme for Highland's annual Christmas Dance. Beginning at 8:00 on December 23rd, students walked into a Christmas wonderland filled with the joy of the holiday spirit. "Limousine" was the band which added to the atmospheric setting of the night. At 9:00 the crowning of Miss Highlander began. Cathy Kreigh was chosen as the All-American girl. Cathy's court consisted of Senior Cheryl Scharnowske; Juniors Crystal MacMillan and Joan Schleuder; and Freshman Brenda Brauner.

Student emcees host traditional band event

"Bands Around the World" was this year's theme for the 15th annual Plaid and White Revue. Senior Julie Pegg and Sophomore Frank Campbell served as Mistress and Master of Ceremonies marking the second year since 1967 for student emcees. The bands performance of Plaid and White was presented on March 23 and 24 in the HHS Gym.

At 8:00 p.m. the lights dimmed and all was quiet as the band began their performance. Selections included "One of Those Songs," "Fiddler on the Roof," and "MacCarthur Park." Other tunes such as "Michel LeGrand" representing France, "Magoonga Do Brazil" representing South America and "The Earl of Mansfields" representing Scotland were performed. The majorettes ended the review with their traditional "Yankee Doodle Boy."

Musicale '73 breaks HHS tradition

Musicale '73 filled the HHS gym with music, lights, and choral members. Musical tradition was broken May 3 and 4 in the HHS gym at 8:00 by the performance of a contemporary variety show with a musicale style that dates back to the vaudeville days.

"Kalidescopic Colors" was the opening number consisting of complete choregraphy involving the entire Concert Choir. The choreography was done by Mrs. Lou Ann Young.

Other features of Musicale '73 consisted of both a girls and a boys Barbershop Quartet, a drum duel between Tag Grunden and Mike Mechem, and also several performances by the Highland Singers. Comical skits such as Jeff Lallathin and the Four Jets and the World's Record-Holding Breath-holder added attractions.

The closing performance was "Talk to the Animals" consisting of comical walking animals and children of the audience.

Junior class brings the sound of Rastus to 1973 Prom

Springtime means prom time. The evening of May 11 began with a pre-prom party at Teresa Daoust's house. The junior girls serving as hostesses were Melanie Bronnenberg, Cathy Chapman, Bryn Cheetham, June Dotson, Nitta Hopkins, Pam Scott, and Cindy Skinner.

At 9:00 p.m. the students arrived at the Senior Citizens Center entering the Junior-Senior Prom entitled "A Childhood Dream." As the guests walked in they registered in a gingerbread house with Hansel and Gretel standing nearby. Music from the sound of Rastus filled the room. Giant size storybooks such as Cinderella, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, Pinoccio, and Little Red Riding Hood decorated the room. People sitting at tables lighted by candlelight enhanced the setting for the romantic mood.

As the clock struck 10:00 p.m. a dream came true for Junior Kathy Herrington as she was crowned Queen of the prom. With the crown on her head she and her escort, Brad Boyer, danced the Queen's Dance. Her attendants were Cindy Skinner and Christy Clark, escorted by Randy Looper and Mike Dalman.

Debbie Stone wins Miss Heather crown

"And the 1973 Miss Heather is Debbie Stone," announced Linda Roundtree, editor-in-chief of the Highlander.

After a brief welcome and introduction by Mr. Robert Reeder the rest of the junior high convo held on April 27 was highlighted by the junior high majorettes and the seventh and eighth grade bands under the direction of Mr. Steidle. Assisting Mr. Steidle with one number each was Julie Pegg, student assistant.

Debbie Stone was crowned by 1972 Miss Heather, Bobbie Delph, and was escorted by Doug Vaughn. The attendants were Valerie Barger, Joy Engle, Kathy Hester, and Sherry White. They were escorted by Gary Lawerence, Ned Clark, Brad Dye and Randy Riggs, respectively.

Graduation . . . an end–a beginning

On May 31, 1973, 208 seniors departed Highland High School as newly acclaimed graduates of their "alma mater."

Jammed lockers, school lunches, and semester finals were one of the few moments which became the past in the lives of the 1973 graduates. However, graduation was the key that unlocked the door of another series of experiences which was a new beginning for a past ending.

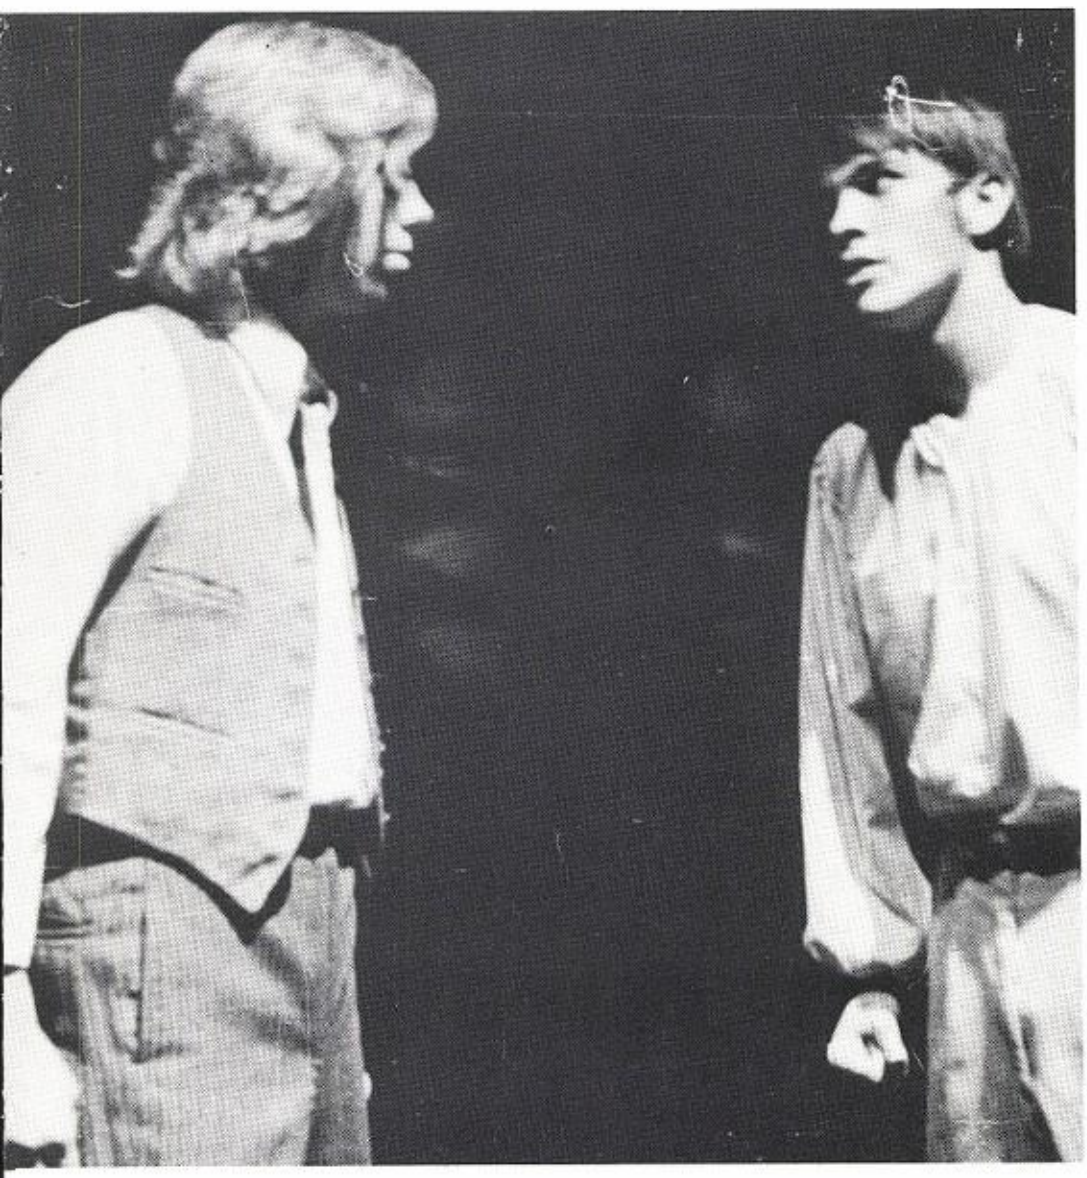
Spring Play portrays Thoreau



April 5 and 6 marked the performances of this year's spring play production, "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail." It told the story of Henry David Thoreau, an 1850 philosopher, showing his most famous act from civil disobedience.

Thoreau refused to pay his poll tax and spent the night in jail because of it. During that night he traveled through his soul from being a hermit to rejoin the human race.

Tom Castor portrayed Henry David Thoreau. Bill Tucker played the part of Ralph Waldo Emerson, Thoreau's best friend. Other members of the cast included Craig Silvey as John Thoreau and Gary Thomas as Deacon Ball.

Spring fever attacks students at Highland

As springtime approached, it became very noticeable at Highland High School with such activities as track and baseball taking over for winter sports. Spring Festival and Prom were two of the major events of HHS springtime.

A new school ending became apparent, however, when rental books were collected which marked the end of the academic year.

SPORTS

The rhythm of victory and defeat quickly became an integral part of life at Highland. Teams and individuals practiced, prepared, and performed as Scots. But sports were more than just the participation of a few, they became a source of involvement for the entire student body. Sports were the focal point of our pride in being Highlanders. We found a new maturity in being able to graciously accept victory while meeting defeat with renewed determination. We wept and we rejoiced and as Highlanders we . . . COMPETED.

Hines sets rushing record while Scots end with 5-5 mark

"HIGHLAND tradition has been broken!" This statement by Coach Reynolds was made in the team bus after Alexandria had beaten the Scots 15-8. For three years the Alexandria teams had beaten the Highland teams by a margin of 20 to 42 points.

With Pete Reynolds as head coach, Tom Murr as line coach, and Greg Risk coaching the backfield, the Scots finished third in W.R.C. play with a conference record of 3-2.

Mike Hines was voted Most Valuable Player and Most Valuable Back, as he set a new record for most yards gained in a season. Bruce Dunham was chosen Most Valuable Lineman by the team members.

Three Scots were selected to the all-county team. They were John Kerr, Mike Hines, and Mike Danforth.

Frosh team works hard, but falls to opponents

Even though the FRESHMAN FOOTBALL TEAM didn't attain a very impressive record, they had strong hope for a promising future. Coach Ron Ruby stated, "The main reason for defeat was the lack of outstanding talent."

The Scot gridders scored a total of 32 points during the entire season against Pendleton Heights, Northside, and Delta. The team was shut out four times in a winless season.

Seventh grade Scots begin "real" football

Experiencing "real football" for the first time, the SEVENTH GRADE SCOTS made team effort their goal according to coach John Maryan.

The young Scots came to Highland with flag football as their only experience of playing football.

Being strangers to one another didn't block the young grid team from "getting it together" and obtaining a 2-3-1 record.

"By combining good conditioning, team work, and experience the seventh graders should achieve many victories in future years," concluded Coach Maryan.

Top right: Even though the seventh grade Scots lose the game, 0-6 to Pendleton, the young laddies aren't lacking in team effort. Blocking the way for offensive back Jeff Ogden (17) are Scott Gillis (85), Steve Williams (99), and Mitch McQueary.

Eighth grade finishes with split season

According to coach Ron Harrison, team effort, hard work, and good sportmanship helped the EIGHTH GRADE FOOTBALL team end their season with a record of 4 wins and 4 losses.

Good sustained drives and a tough defensive unit helped the team to obtain 136 points this season.

Coach Harrison was proud of his outstanding football team. Jeff Jamerson was the offensive captain, and the defensive captain was Randy Hollon. Both the young Scots and Coach Harrison agree it was a good season.

Scots begin season with hopeful outlook in 17th year

"A season that started with a bright outlook ended in frustration," commented Coach Mitchell. He went on to say, "Many young varsity players gained invaluable experience and the knowledge that it takes a lot more than was exerted this year to be a champion."

The VARSITY SCOTS finished the season with a six win, fourteen loss record and a four way tie for second in the White River Conference. Leading the team in scoring and rebounding was Mike Henry who was also named to the All-Conference team with Mike Danforth. As team captain, Randy Looper led the team in assists.

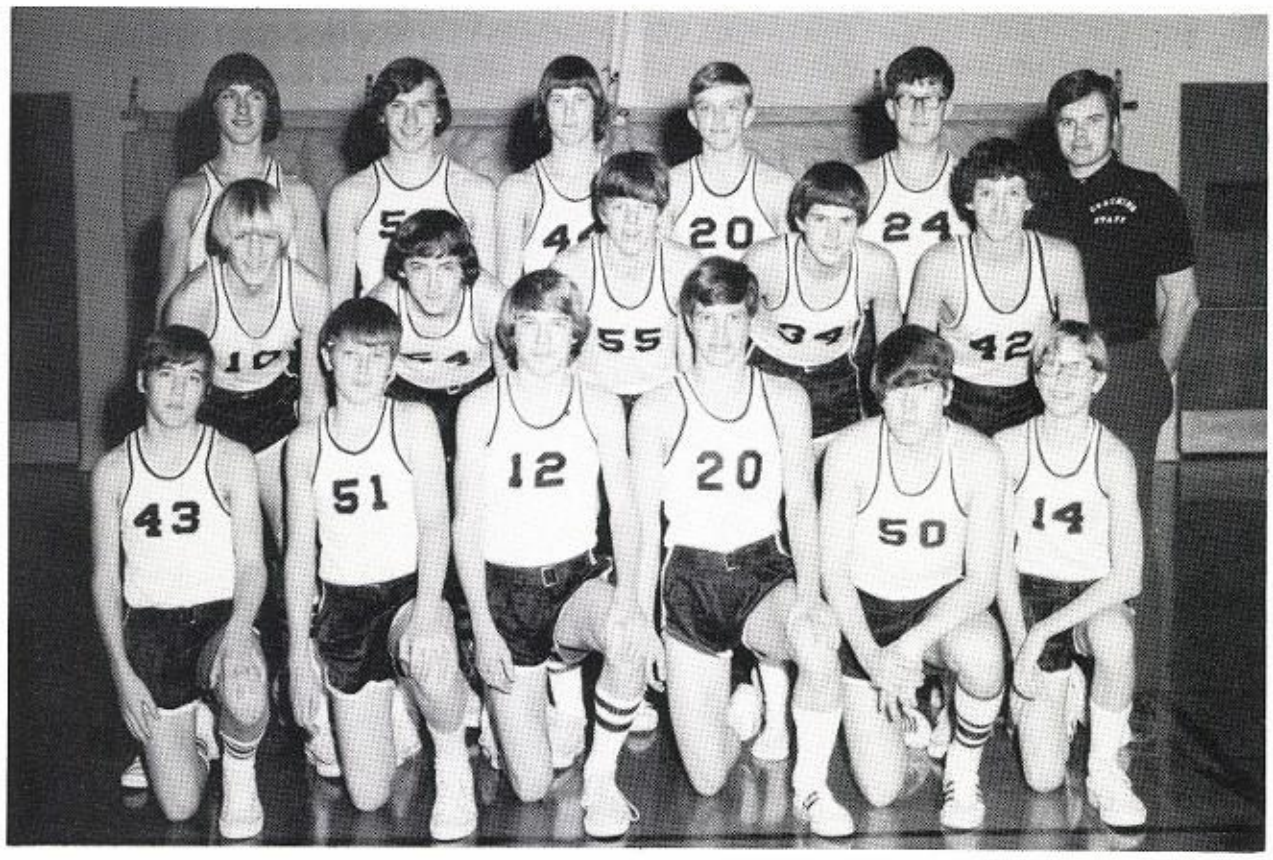
Freshmen perseverance brings winning season



"Hard work in practice paid off," according to FRESHMAN BASKETBALL coach, Jim Teeters, "with good conditioning and victories." The Freshman Team ended the season with a ten win, six loss record, being the best Freshman record since the 67-68 season. They also reigned as Freshman White River Conference Champions.

With a .750 average at the foul line, Bruce Cook was leading free throw shooter.

Young Scots win City Tourney

The EIGHTH GRADE BASKETBALL TEAM posted a winning season with ten wins, seven losses and a City Tourney Championship under leading scorer and rebounder Rick Lantz. Commenting on the Eighth Grade's city tourney victory, Coach Jackson stated, "In the City Tournament it took an all-out effort on the part of everyone to win. The starting five played well and the boys coming off the bench played well too."

Tourney victories elude Highlanders

"In order to beat them we needed 110 per cent effort, that we didn't get," commented Coach Dick Mitchell after the Scots lost to Mount Vernon 62-52 in the County Tourney. The Scots downfall seemed to be caused by hitting a low .380 from the foul line and making 18 errors compared to Mount Vernon's 7.

The basketball season ended at Sectional with the frustration that seemed to prevail throughout the season. The game opened with the Scots taking a quick 10 to nothing lead showing the potential expected all season. But a vastly improved Daleville team started a drive in the third quarter to defeat the Scots 71-59.

Scot wrestlers set new school records

"Another good season" was Coach Ron Ruby's expression of the 1972-73 VARSITY WRESTLING TEAM. The wrestlers posted an eight win, four loss record and finished fourth in the sectional out of ten teams.

The Scots finished second in the Madison County Tourney with Mickey Gaw, Ken Kuchler, and Stan Mock winning their weight divisions. The team also took third place in the White River Conference.

The Most Valuable Wrestler was Ken Kuchler who set school records for best season record 23-1, most team points, 113½, and best dual meet record, 12-0, for the 167 lb. class. Mike Hines was Honorary Captain and he holds the best dual meet record for 138 lb. class, 7-0, and 145 lb. class, 10-0.

Cross Country teams share losing season

"The first season for JUNIOR HIGH CROSS COUNTRY was good for the future," stated Coach Steve Davis, "and since the majority of the team consisted of seventh graders, next year's team should be even better." Led by team captain Brian Sanders, the team achieved a record of 3 wins and 7 losses.

Junior High and Freshman girls golf organized

Girls golf became a reality for the first time at Highland. Leading these young lassies through a winless, but eventful season was coach John Maryan and sponsor Ruth Williams. According to Mrs. Williams, "We had a real good beginning in preparation for future years. Our girls had little or no experience, but show great promise for the future." The future for girls golf means, according to official sources, that girls golf will become an IHSAA varsity sport in the next couple of years.

The junior high boys finished their third year of competition with a 3 win, 3 loss record. The "B" team didn't fair as well, with their 0 win, 2 loss record.

Inconsistency hurts Varsity Golf team

Inconsistent playing plagued the 1973 Varsity golf team. Consequently, players were frequently moved from varsity to reserve and back. Regardless of their playing style the varsity players captured second place in the White River Conference with a winning record of 6 wins, 4 losses and 1 tie. The reserve team did almost as well with a 6 win, 5 loss record.

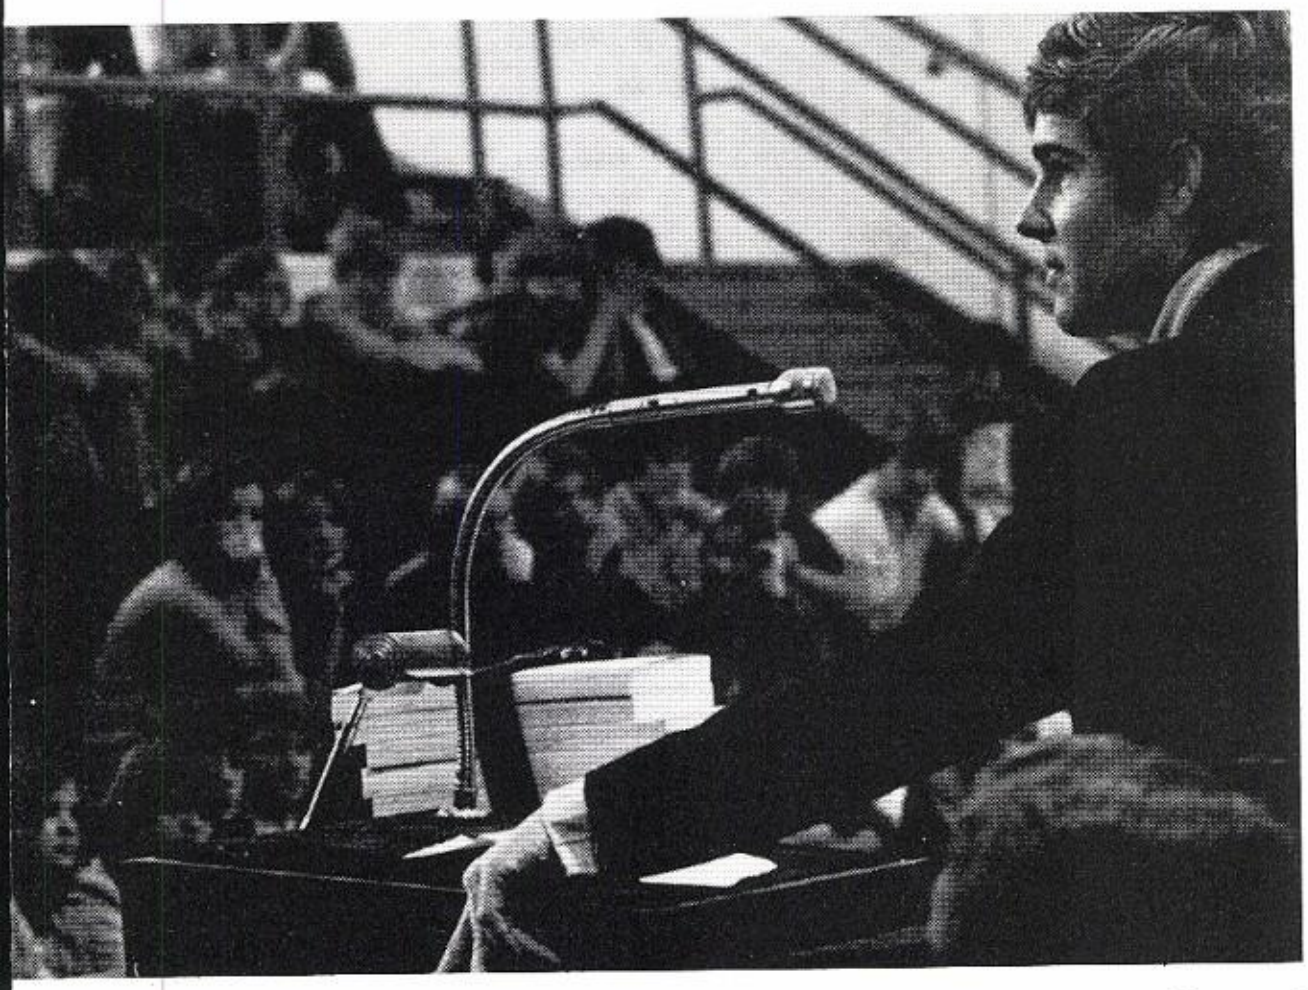
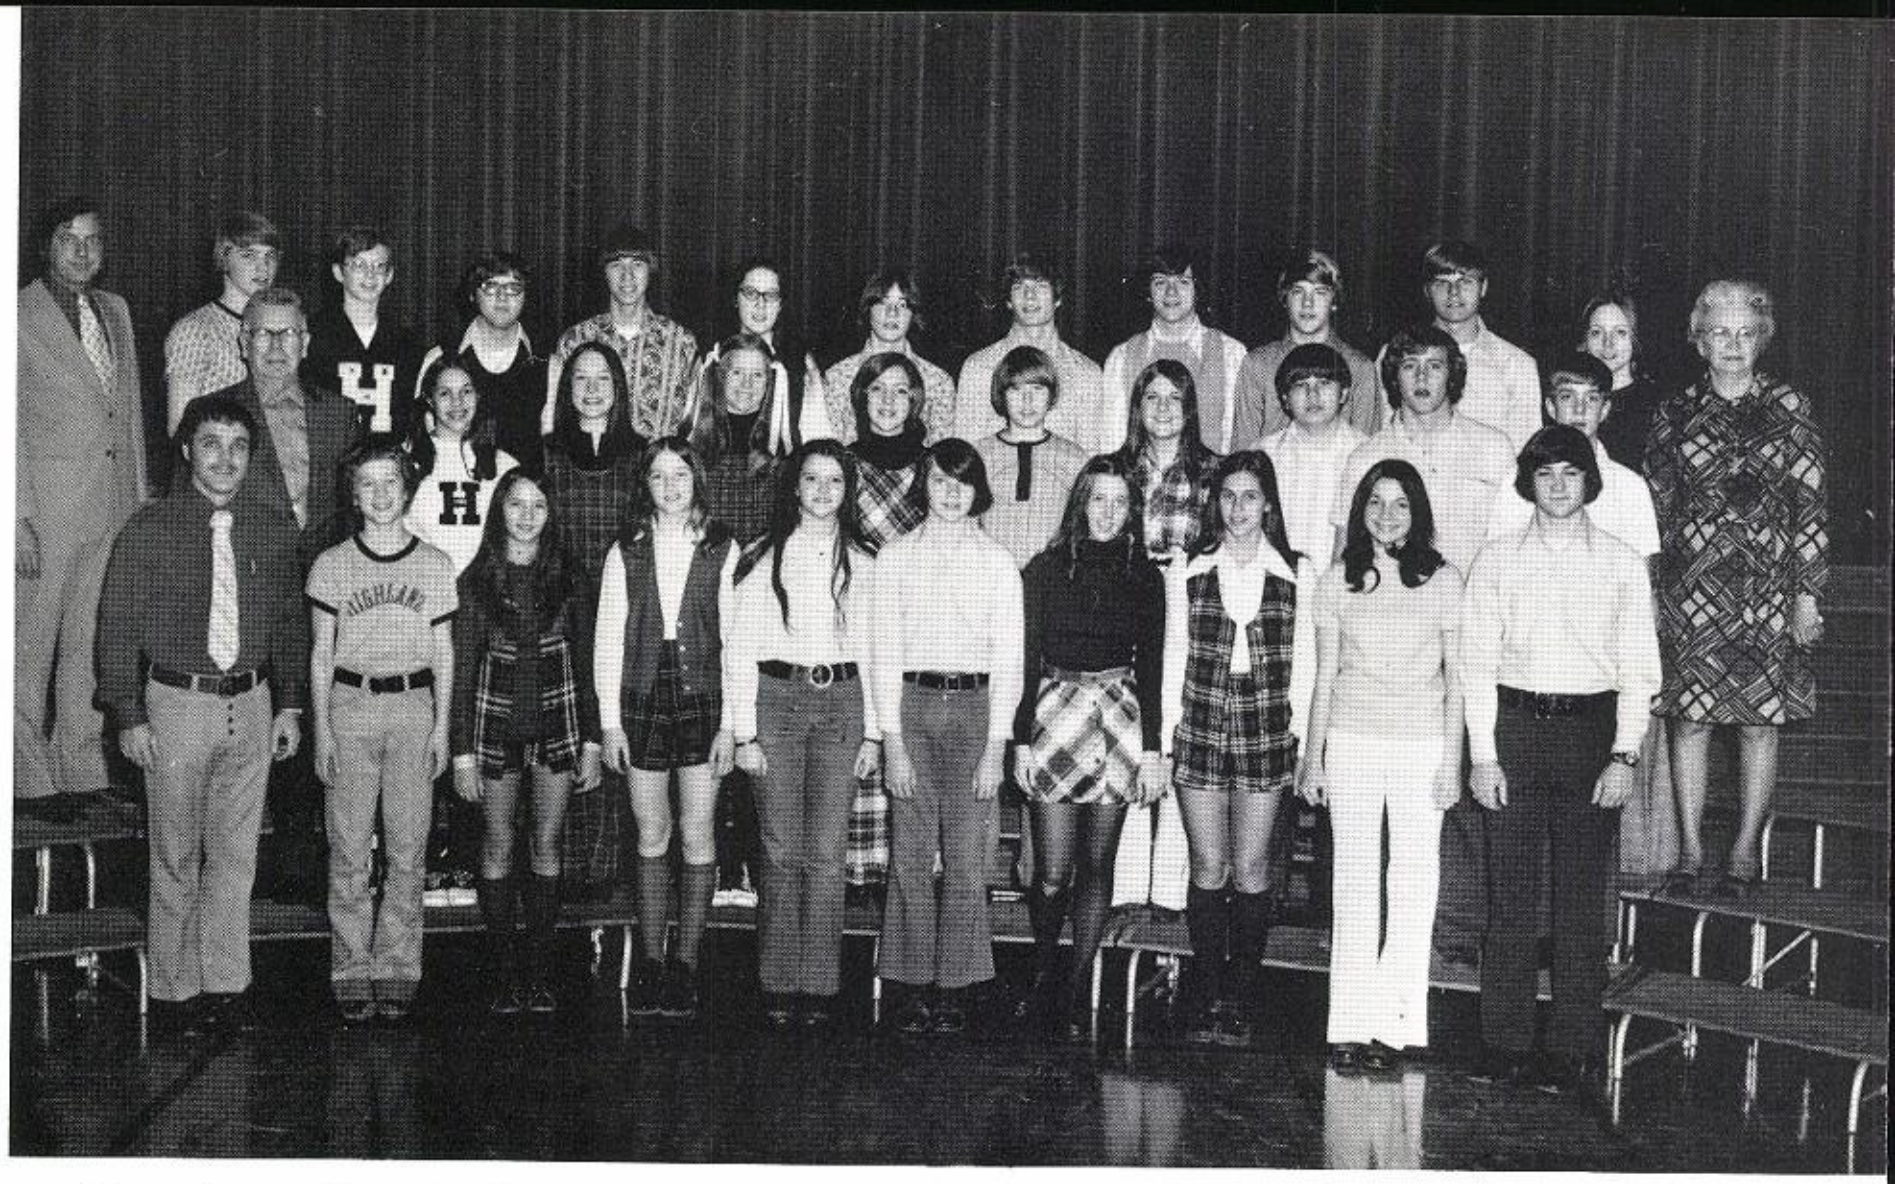
ORGANIZATIONS



Among the hundreds around us we glimpsed those with which we shared a common interest or worked toward a common goal. Talents and abilities were joined to perform needed functions and provide new and varied experiences. We accepted privileges while remembering the limitations of added responsibility. Words such as commitment and cooperation became more than ideals as we explored the realities of working together. We were often surprised as the interaction of varied personalities resulted in an improved Highland. Organizations at Highland were . . . CHANGING.

ORGANIZATIONS



Ranshaw leads SC through busy year

Promoting new social events and supporting established traditions, the STUDENT COUNCIL actively served the Scot student body by developing governing policies and planning social affairs.

Favorable reactions to the absence of class bells due to malfunction brought about the formation of a Student Council committee which approached Mr. Davis about instituting a no-bell policy. The Council sold football jerseys to raise money to buy twenty basketballs to send to underpriviledged boys in Columbia, South America. They also sponsored the Fall Festival, the Spring Festival, the Homecoming Dance, and Christmas Dance.

Assembly relates local issues

To bridge the gap between the students and the governing body of those students–Student Council–the STUDENT ASSEMBLY met weekly and attempted to relate to the homerooms all major topics of concern that would affect the majority of the students. Topics included dismissal bells, cafeteria cleanliness and all school social events such as homecoming.

Student Assembly members take seriously the discussion concerning school situations such as the ringing of the traditional dismissal and tardy bells.

Book fair succeeds; Bowl team winless

The Highland Library Club sponsored a book drive and book fair while fulfilling the usual responsibility of operating the library. The book fair raised money for a Webster's dictionary at the Children's Home.

Seniors Carson Hinds, Henry Schrenker, and Tim Klus led the Bowl Team through four meets during the school year. Although the Highland scholars were winless, sponsors Mr. Beane and Mr. Arnold stated that the meets were excellent learning experiences for all involved.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA sold candles and candle holders to pay state dues. Under sponsorship of Miss Mary Lawler and Mrs. Martha Lallathin, club members prepared Klunkers, hot chocolate and Fuzzies for the FHA booth at the Fall Festival.

Organized by Mr. Hugh Callison and Mr. Randy Greene, the CHESS CLUB met three times a week to play chess. In order to keep Membership in the club, members had to attend at least one of the three meetings.

Debate Club matures

The 1973 Future Farmers expanded in numbers and many of their new members became participants in county judging contests. The Highlanders were first in soil judging at the contest and also took part in the livestock, crop and dairy judging. The young farmers also sold seeds and apple cider to finance their activities.

Debate Club entered its second year of existence under the direction of Mrs. Stephanie Brammer. The five debaters showed quick minds and willing spirits as they competed with county schools.

FTA provides new outlets for educational abilities

Future Teachers of America provided early experience for fifty Highland students who plan to enter the field of education. The FTA members held a Christmas party for the students of the Chesterfield special education class. They presented the children toys and served punch and cookies. During a field trip to Ball State University the FTA members toured campus. Mrs. Starr Arnold sponsored the Future Teachers of America. Linda Roundtree was President, Joan Schleuder Vice President, Andrea Davis Secretary, John Ranshaw treasurer.

Health club has a change in name

The touring of Elly Lilly and the local hospitals highlighted the year for the newly named MEDICAL CAREERS CLUB. Several members also attended the Health Careers Conference at Butler.

The club met bimonthly and had Mrs. Bozell and Miss Sisson as sponsors. Terri Crull was president of the club, with Steve Smith and Barbara Brown as vice-president and secretary, respectively.

Band gets Superior Rating at Contest

It has been traditional for the Highland High School Band to bring honor to the school. This year's concert band was honored at the Indiana School Music Association contest with a superior rating. A superior rating is the highest rating that can be awarded to a concert band.

The band was not only honored with a high rating but was also awarded a perfect score by one of the judges.

Perhaps the activities leading up to the performances of the band can best be described by a statement offered by one judge when he wrote: "Bands like this don't just happen. They come from hard work."

Band tours England; Receives third place at State Fair

On June 10, 1972, the Marching Highlanders' much anticipated trip to England and Scotland became a reality. Once the Band's chartered jet landed, the Highlanders began a busy schedule of concerts and sightseeing.

The countryside of Great Britain was unfolded to the Highlanders as they toured such landmarks as Big Ben, Buckingham Palace and Loch Lomond; and, before the concert in Glasgow, the Lord Provost of that city honored the Highlanders with a special tea.

On June 18, the Highlanders returned to Anderson, USA to begin work for the State Fair contest. Daily practices and band camp during the summer helped the Scots prepare for a third consecutive first place victory—but their hopes were crushed as the Band placed third behind Shenandoah and Wapehani.

Jazz Scots form;

Pep Band changes

In red sweaters sporting the Highland band insignias, the PEP BAND, under the direction of Mr. Hugh Callison, supported the Varsity football and basketball teams with musical pre-game entertainment. At half-time the pep band entertained fans with music and provided the majorettes with dance routine selections.

Formerly known as the Dance Band, the JAZZ SCOTS expanded their abilities by providing music for a Marion prom, by presenting a concert at the Anderson City Auditorium, and by participating in the Elmhurst Jazz Festival at Fort Wayne.

The Jazz Scots selected blue cuffed pants and pink ruffled shirts as their new outfit for 1972-73. Mr. Ken Steidle, the new assistant band director handled the responsibility of directing the group.

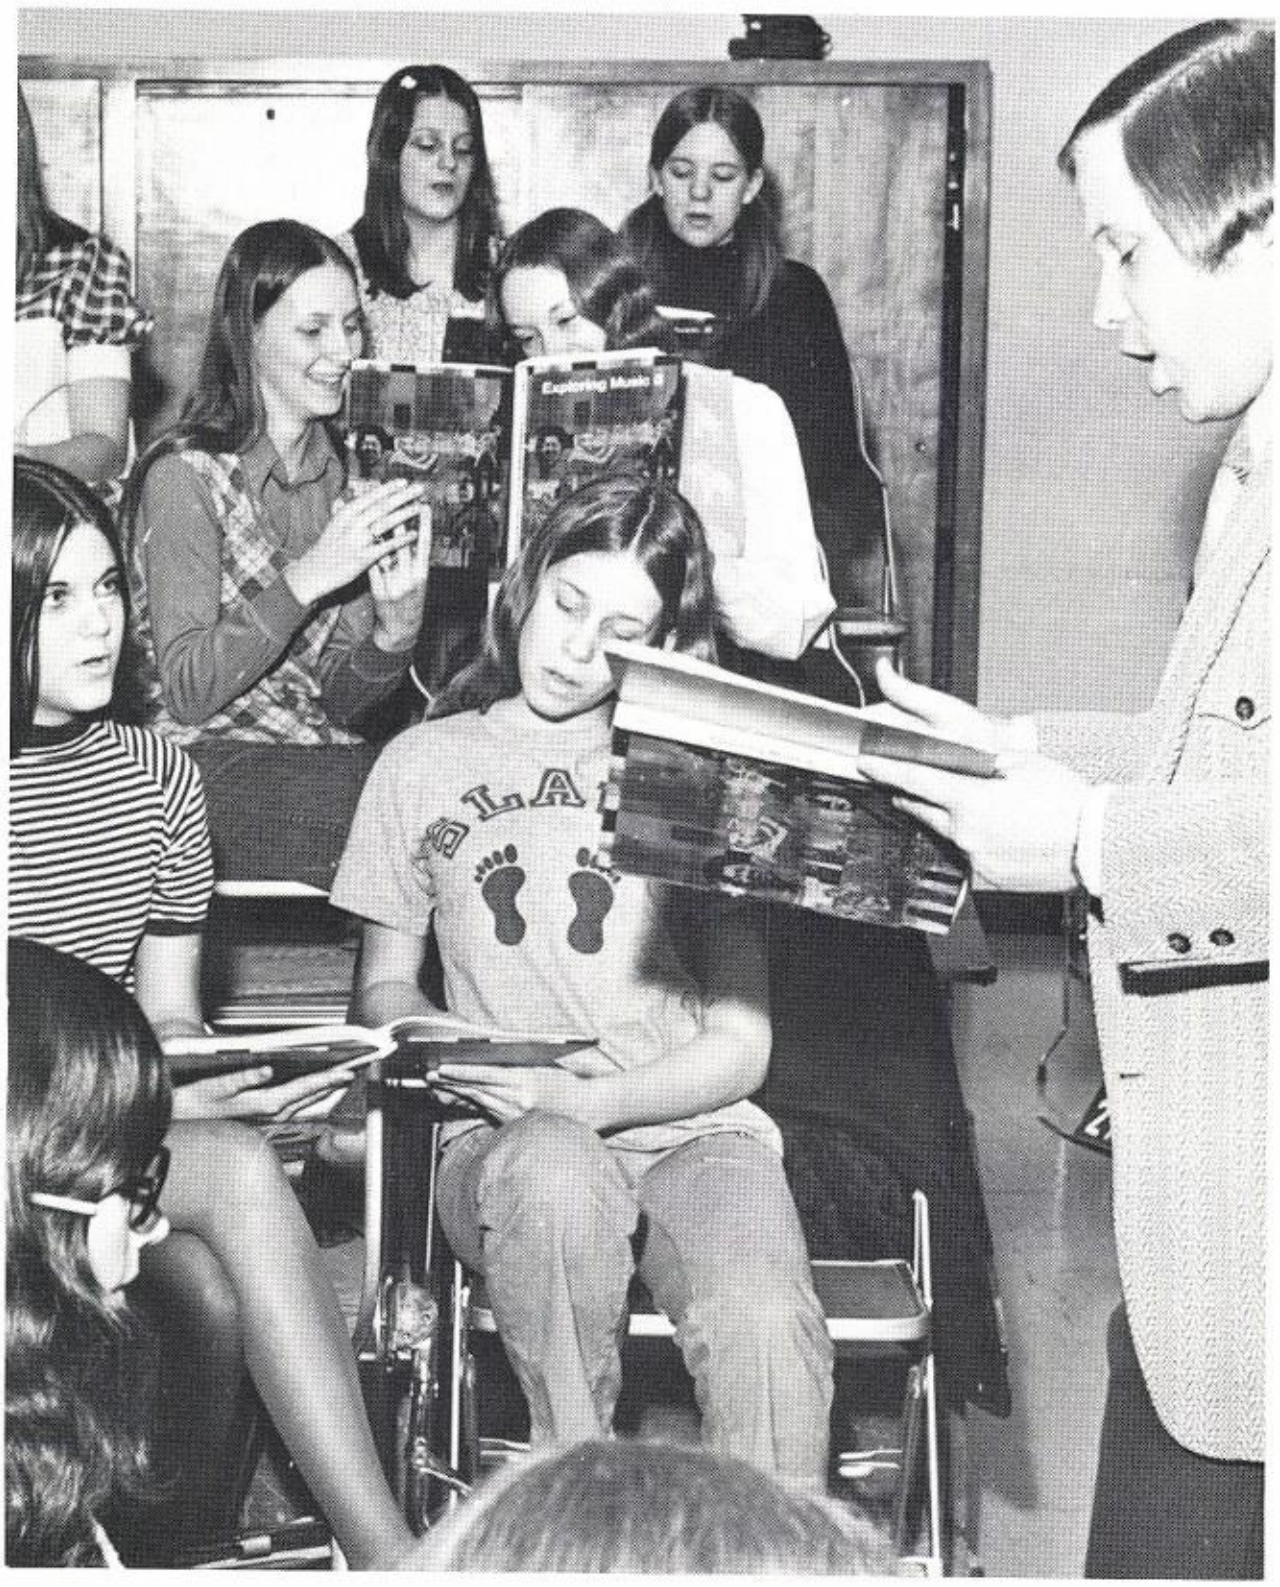
Youngsters train for High School Music

Under the direction of Mr. Randy Greene, the JUNIOR HIGH CHORUS began preparing for membership in the high school choral department. They participated in the Madison County Junior High Choral Festival, the Miss Heather convo and the Junior High Awards Day Convo.

Becoming a member of a championship band was the goal of many hard working Junior High Bandsmen. These Bandsmen took part in a concert band contest, a pregame and half time show of a junior high basketball game and the Miss Heather convo.



Jr. High Chorus members find that continual practice is the price for fine performances.

Singers and Concert Choir initiate Musicale

The traditional Open House performance marked the beginning of a busy year for the HIGHLAND SINGERS and CONCERT CHOIR. As musical ambassadors, the Singers made appearances at both country clubs, the Elks Club, and the top of the First Savings building. They also appeared on several occasions in the HHS gym. To boost their versatility the Highland Singers added a second outfit to their wardrobe for winter and spring affairs.

Sporting new robes the Concert Choir also served as musical goodwill messengers by hosting the Madison County Choral Festival in the Anderson high school gym. They also sang for Chesterfield, Valley Grove, and College Corner grade schools at Christmas, as well as the Children's Ward of the Turtle Creek Center.

Working with the Highland Singers, the Concert Choir held Highland's first "musicale" instead of the traditional musical. According to director Randy Greene, the best way to describe a musicale is ". . . that it is a variety show style presentation." "I think the parents and students will like it," he concluded.

Mixed Chorus sings at Choral Concert

Preparing for possible membership in the Highland Singers or Concert Choir, the MIXED CHORUS furthered their musical talents. The group, consisting of mostly freshmen and sophomores, performed at the Highland Choral Concert along with the Highland Singers and Concert Choir.

The Choral department presented the Choral Concert in the Highland gymnasium. All of the vocal groups participated in the show. Favorite selections were sung by the Singers, Choir and Mixed Chorus while skits and comedy routines rounded out the show.

The HIGHLANDER, TARTAN, and ECHOES staffs spent many hours in the loft. In addition, not just a few hours were spent outside the loft, as Mr. Reeder's pass book attested, as the semi-professional journalists sought background material and picture ideas for their periodicals.

Linda Roundtree, as Highlander editor, devoted endless days to insure a summer delivery of her book. Jan Brewer, managing editor and Mick Gilliam, editor-in-chief, successfully guided the Tartan staff through hectic bimonthly deadlines. Jan also served as Echoes editor, and with her staff collected and screened hundreds of literary works to produce a quality literary magazine.

Quill and Scroll honors fifteen students

Highlighting the year for publications staffs was the banquet and induction of the new QUILL and SCROLL members. The fifteen inductees completed three semesters of journalistic work and had a grade standard that ranked them in the upper third of their class.

This was the third year for the "All-publications" affair which included the TARTAN newspaper, the HIGHLANDER yearbook, and ECHOES literary magazine. Others involved in the production of Highland publications were also on hand to share in the evening at the Top Hat Restaurant, including school administration, faculty advisors, printers, and professional personnel.

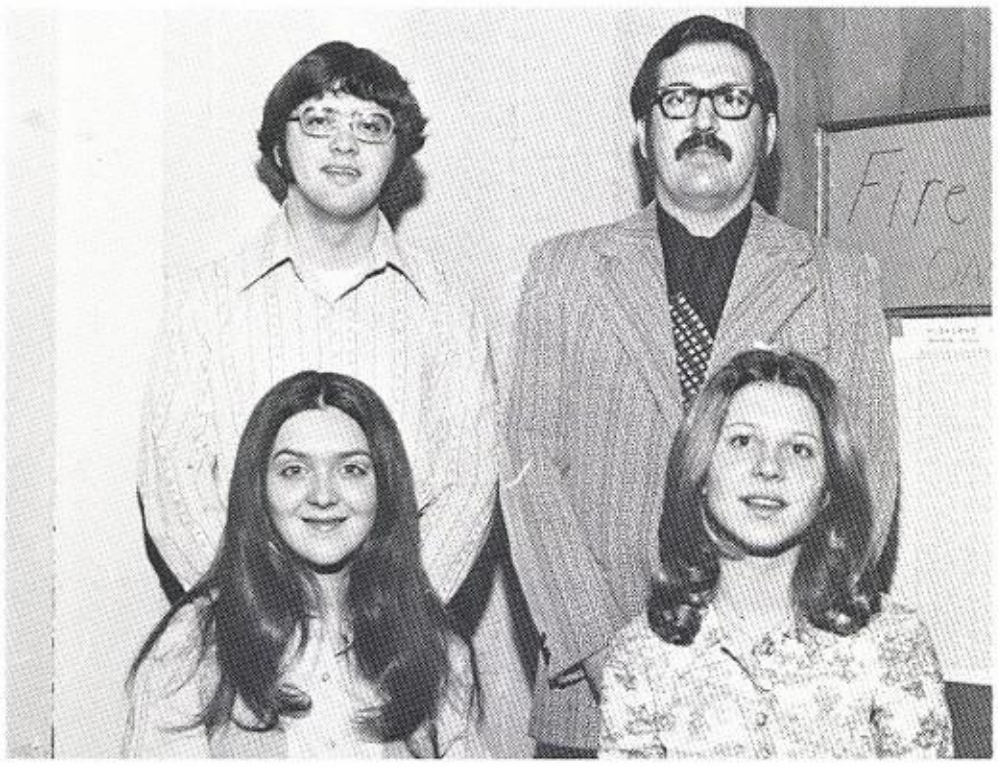
Election year provokes HHS interests in politics



An Election year and the recent eighteen year old voting law prompted Republicans and Democratic oriented youth to become involved in the newly organized political clubs. Interest in the clubs ran high however, actual involvement by the students was limited—but proved to be greater for the Democrat club according to their sponsors. The Republicans used their time for building interest in the club, while the Democrats spent time distributing circulars, attending rallies, and participating in discussions on political affairs.

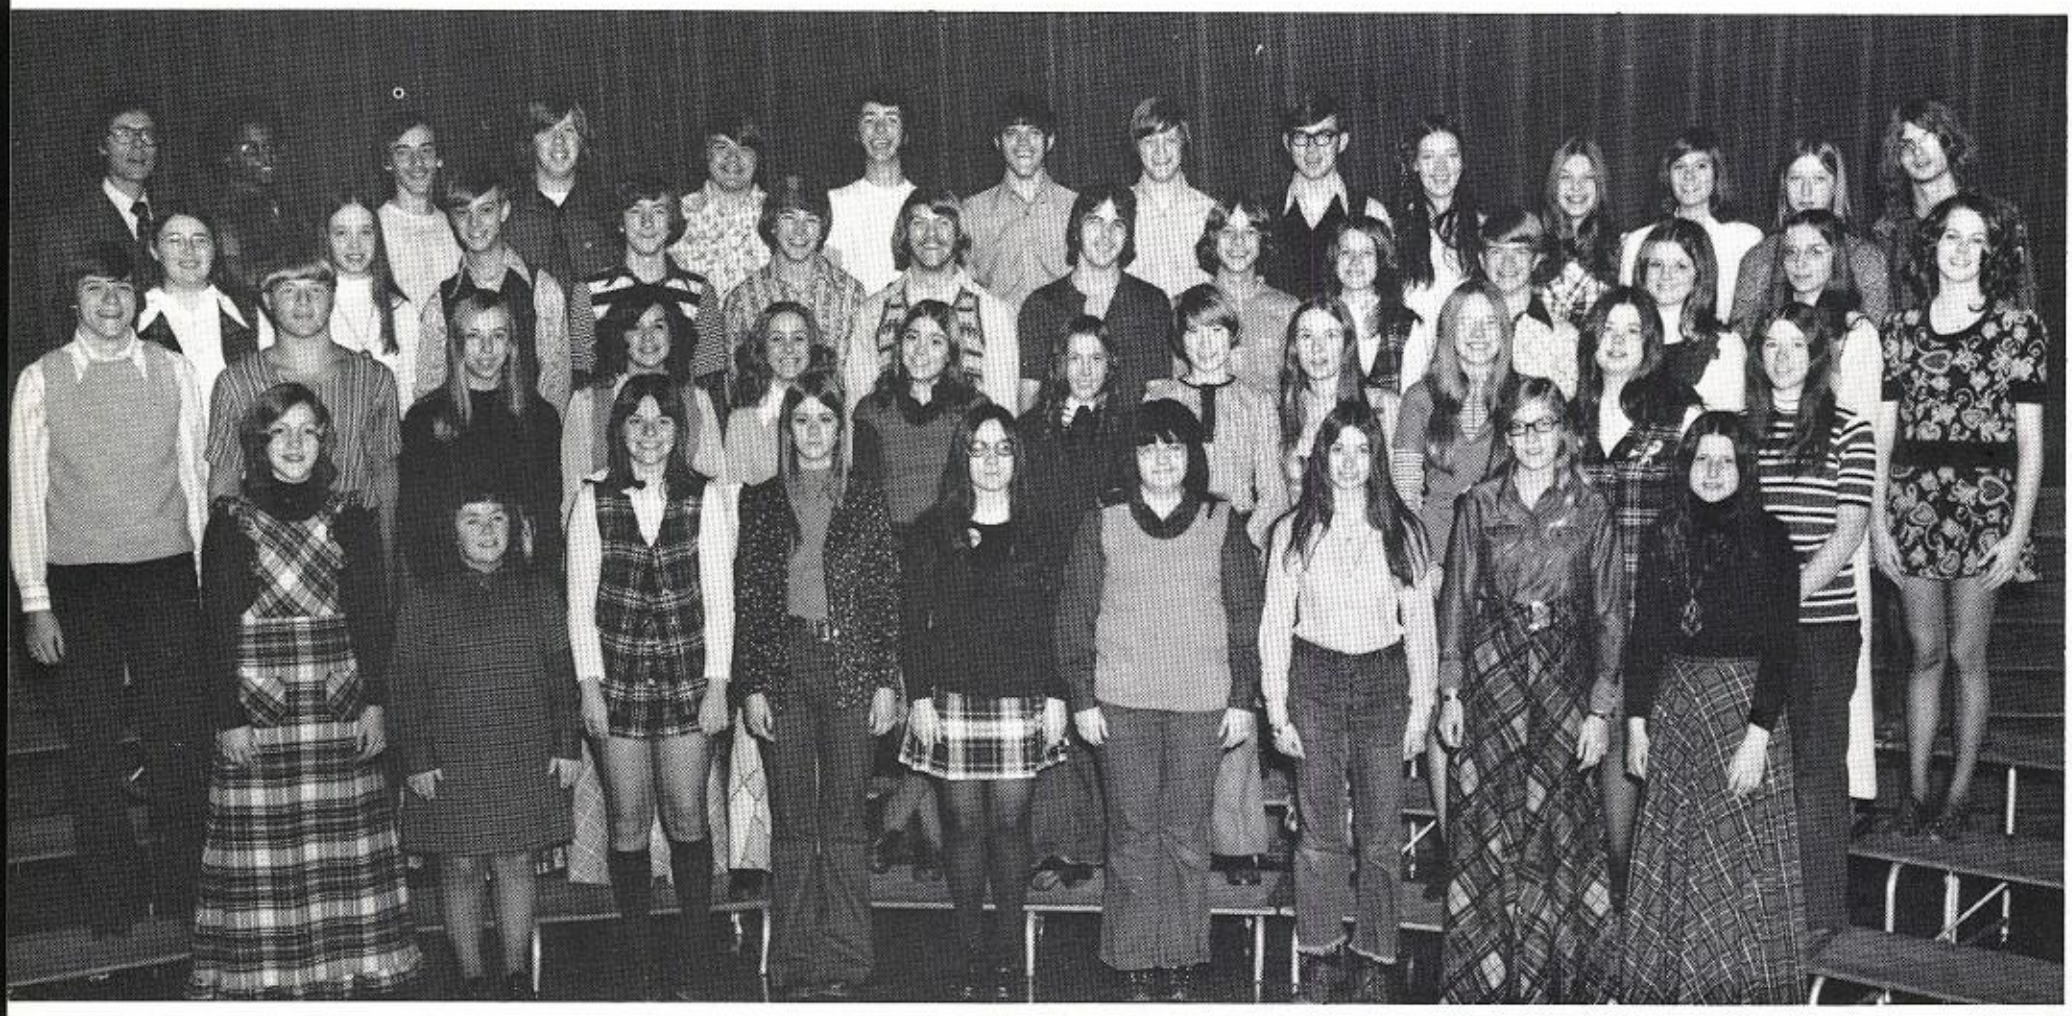
Dramatics Club becomes HHS Theater Guild



With the beginning of school, the Dramatics Club was accepted into the Secondary School Theatre Association, and the Children's Theatre. The club then became known as THEATRE GUILD.

During June, dramatic abilities were intensified for fifteen Theatre Guild members by attending a drama workshop at Anderson College.

In the fall, the Theatre Guild sponsored the play, "I Never Saw Another Butterfly," and in the spring "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail."

A spring banquet ended the Theatre Guild's school year, and provided the setting for the annual induction ceremonies for Thespian Troupe 3088.

Young actors present "Werewolf in Town"

The JUNIOR HIGH DRAMA CLUB enabled junior high students to gain valuable experience in acting. At their weekly meetings, the members practiced acting and dramatic reading.

The Drama Club members attended "Summertree" at Ball State and the Spring and Fall plays presented by the Highland Theatre Guild. In the Spring the club members presented "Werewolf in Town" for the seventh grade class.

New sponsors named; Society expands size

The audience patiently awaited for "Let the tapping begin," at the annual HONOR SOCIETY tapping convocation. For the thirteenth year, selected students made their way to the reception line to be congratulated. Forty junior and senior students officially became members of the Honor Society on November 28, 1972 during the traditional candlelight induction ceremony.

Plans for the year were discussed by members during scheduled meetings. Activities planned for the year were a hamster racing booth for the Fall Festival, a field trip; and the Society voted for the boy and girl to receive the National Honor Society's Scholarship.

Spanish Students Invade 'Old Mexico'

On the morning of July 7, 1972, six young Lassies, along with Mrs. Dehart and Mrs. Taylor, a former HHS faculty member, began an exotic trip to the neighboring country of Mexico. These adventurists toured Almeda Amusement Park and Castle in Chapul, took a yacht cruise, and had a shopping spree in Mexico City. The sightseers spent nights in Monterrey, Mexico City, and Acapulco. The final night was spent in San Antonio, Texas.

Sponsored by Mrs. Dehart for French and Spanish Students, the Modern Language Club held a French and Spanish Dinner, a taco party, a breakfast, and a bowling party. Teresa Garrett served as president of the club, with Gary Price as vice president, and Julie Pegg was secretary and treasurer.

Rome lives again in Latin Banquet

Twenty first-year Latin students recited a pledge of loyalty on Friday night, November 10, 1972, to officially become members of the LATIN CLUB. Jeff Grider, assisted by Bryn Cheetham and Christy Clark, administered the pledge and presided over the initiation ceremonies.

During the week before Christmas vacation, the Latin students collected food and clothing for a needy family in Anderson.

The Highland High School courtyard was the setting for the annual Latin banquet. The May 5 occasion included a Roman wedding and funeral, and a mock slave sale.

Campus life meets to discuss issues

A "Burger Bash" in September began another mind-searching year for teenagers belonging to CAMPUS LIFE. The group met once a week at different student's homes to discuss relevant topics such as problems with parents, sex and morals, issues, Bible prophecies that are "happening today," plus several other interesting issues.

Campus Life also held an "insight" meeting once a week for the more religious minded students. At these meetings the Bible was studied and members' spiritual feelings were discussed.

Faculty defeats H-Club by 58-48

At all home basketball games and pep sessions, spirited H-CLUB members joined together to promote Scot Pride. These members, males only, have earned at least one letter in a varsity sport.

To raise money for the purchase of video-tape equipment for the athletic department, H-Club sponsored a basketball game between the Anderson Launders and Cleaners and Indianapolis Hudco. The preliminary game involved the Highland Faculty and H-Club.

Varsity Pepsters are No. 1 in State

Faithfully cheering for the Scot teams were VARSITY CHEERLEADERS Stacey Skinner, Christy Clark, Cindy Skinner, Debbie Elliott and Cathy Tucker.

The squad brought another first place trophy to Highland by reigning as Champions in State Fair competition where they performed such crowd arrousing cheers as "Team Beat," "Beware," "Sock it to 'Em," "Jump and Jive," and "Scots can Fight."

Jr. Squad wins at camp

With vigor, pep and enthusiasm, RESERVE CHEERLEADERS, Laura Dye, Cindy Crull, and Mickey Braden met the requirements of backing the reserve team.

In August, the three reserve spiriters attented a cheerleading camp at the Miami University of Ohio in Oxford, Ohio. During the nightly competition they received two first place and three third place ratings.

Along with the Varsity Cheerleaders, the Reserve Squad cheered at all Varsity football and Basketball games and all home wrestling meets.

Frosh squad matures

Two-year veterans of cheerleading Kathy Brown, Vicki Stanley and Beth Hollon, and novice Erinn Mack were chosen by their peers to generate enthusiasm and support for the 1972-1973 Freshman Basketball and football teams.

Following in the footsteps of the Varsity Cheerleaders, the Frosh Spirit raisers repeatedly practiced acrobatic stunts and precision routines until near perfection was achieved.

Young spiritsters back teams through victory and defeat

JUNIOR HIGH CHEERLEADERS filled the gym with chants and cheers as they faithfully backed the young Scot teams. These spiritsters worked three days a week after school on precise movements and togetherness.

Being a cheerleader at Highland for the first time posed a great challenge for seventh graders Joy Engle, Valerie Barger, LeighAnn Schattner, and Sherri White.

With more cheerleading experience behind them, eighth graders Becky Campbell, Debbi Stone, Lisa Danner, and Sandy Danner, worked hard on cheers, hoping to become Varsity Cheerleaders when they get older.

Both the seventh and eighth grade cheerleaders boosted the Varsity Cheerleaders' spirit by serving as "energy savers" during sectional week.

First year gymnasts gain new experience

With the purchase of gymnastic equipment in the Spring of '72, several students from the junior and senior high worked toward the formation of GYMNASTICS CLUBS.

By Fall '72, Girls Gymnastic Club and Boys Gymnastic Club were ready to go, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Julie Jacobs and Mr. Brian Hildebrand, respectively.

The female organization met weekly for two hours to perfect new routines and maneuvers on the gymnastic apparatus.

The male counterpart practiced daily on basic moves and style—giving the equipment full use.

Pep Club provides Spirit spark at HHS

The spirit spark was provided at HHS by an expanded PEP CLUB. Ninety-four plaid clad girls cheered the Scot teams through a year of victories and defeat.

Snappy new plaid outfits were donned by the pepsters early in the fall which renewed the pride of the organization.

Spirit rousing chants and yells were repeatedly practiced under the approving eye of Mrs. Miriam Sumner, club sponsor. With the opening kick off of football season until the final gun of basketball season, the sounds of the Scot Supporters echoed throughout the Highland countryside.

Pepsters faithfully support young teams

Anxious to become high school pep club members, the JUNIOR HIGH PEP CLUB learned and practiced new cheers and chants. The practice paid off when they faithfully backed the young Scot teams by attending each home Junior high basketball game. The club, in it's second year of reorganization, had a decrease in membership. Miss Kaiser headed her second year as sponsor of the young group.

ACADEMICS

ACADEMICS

We searched for our identity through knowledge. By learning more of the world around us we hoped to better understand that complex being within us. Confronted with confusing arrays of problems we were aided by those older and more experienced than ourselves. Anderson Community Schools brought improved facilities to Highland but the students brought the world itself to their classroom as they endeavored to understand the society that enveloped them. Perhaps we found more questions than answers but we learned that we were not alone as we sought the solutions. Academics at Highland were . . . GROWING.

Language Arts expands curriculum

The Language Arts Department has expanded its curriculum extensively in the past year. Drama classes, Contemporary Literature, and Biblical Literature were added to their list of electives. New methods of teaching and learning, such as student directed and produced plays were introduced in the drama class. In contemporary literature contemporary novels were discussed. In Biblical literature different and classical views of the Bible were brought forth by the teachers and students alike. The group discussion was also a different method used in teaching the classes by use of different views from the students. The classical term paper proved to be the important endeaver for Juniors once again, and the "Brown" theme became a major worry for many seniors trying to complete their education.

Left: Required term papers for Juniors prove to be a six week project. Below: To escape the monotony, Miss Polus leads a group discussion with her Freshman English class.

Publications remain unchanged for student journalists

The Echoes literary magazine, Highlander yearbook, and Tartan newspaper provided Highland journalists a chance to prove their abilities in the field of journalism. With the same basic staff structure, layout and photo procedures as in recent years the staffs were challenged to maintain equal quality and determination. The Echoes was involved with collecting creative writings to compose the literary magazine. The Highlander staff's duty was to record an album of events of the 1972-73 school year. The Tartan, published bi-monthly, gave its members the task of recording events of the school on a "newspaper-like" basis.

Science Dpt. Continues use of field trips

The Science Department, headed by Mr. Deloris Martin, was implemented with numerous field trips taken by the Junior High in order to include all the seventh and eighth grade students. They visited the Museum of Science and Industry, the John Hancock Building, Alder Planetarium, and Shedd Aquarium. Also, the Senior High Chemistry and Physics class joined the Home Ec girls for a similar trip to Chicago.

This was the sixth annual year for the Biology field trip to Turkey Run where students collected wild flowers for their semester projects.

Enrollment in the Science Department remained the same, although more interest has been indicated for more advanced science for next year.

Math classes move into new classrooms

The Math Department added a special education class in the Junior High Math classes for those students who have trouble getting Math. Basic Algebra and a two year Algebra I class were also added to the curriculum for those who had trouble with Algebra. A Practical Math course was offered to Juniors and Seniors who were only interested in the Math required. And for those who wanted to take as much Math as they could, independent study courses were offered. Carson Hines and John Hickman were the only students taking these courses. Plans were made this year by Mr. Henry Fox, head of the Math Department, for a fifth year Math Seminar class to begin in the fall of 1973.

Vocational School, ICE offer job training opportunities

Approximately thirty Highland Students participated in Highland's first Interdisciplinary Cooperative Education programs in the Anderson community.

Various local businesses provided the opportunity for area students to have "on the job training" in conjunction with the classroom.

The Anderson Area Vocational School, in it's second year, provided HHS students with an opportunity to gain job experiences through various "lab" programs.

Business Department begins new program

Business Education included secretarial skills, salesmanship, and accounting. Typing, Shorthand, and Notehand were courses offered to girls and guys wishing to improve their secretarial skills. Business Law, General Business, and Bookkeeping were courses offered to those wishing to improve salesmanship and accounting.

In Business Law, students gave sales speeches in the second semester to learn the fundamentals of a good salesman.

Mr. Forrest taught the new Interdisciplinary Cooperative Education, ICE, class. This course was only offered to juniors and seniors. The program consisted of attending school half a day and working the other half.

Home Ec. sponsors Fashion Show for girls

The Home Economic girls gave a style show for the girls in grades 7-12. This year instead of modeling what they made in class the girls modeled clothes from Dorothy Blevins shop. They were given a quick lesson in poise and self-confidence before they modeled. Dorothy Blevins was the emcee of the event.

In class the girls increased their knowledge of cooking and sewing. One might have detected many different aromas coming from the Home Ec. room.

Every year an award is given to the person scoring the highest on a special test. This award was given to Cathy Kreigh and is called the Betty Crocker award. The Crisco award given to the outstanding student was awarded to Theresa Newland.

Curriculum improves with Health interest

Five teachers brought about a better understanding for Highland students—in grades 7-10—of their Health needs.

Mrs. Bozelle, Miss Sisson, Mr. Fromholtz, and Mr. Harrison enlightened the students of all the aspects of a body's physical and mental needs.

The purpose of a good and stable family life was also covered in the Health classes which seemed to be the most interesting to the students.

New P.E. classes added to the school curriculum

An advanced Physical Education class was added to the P.E. and Health curriculum this year. Physiology and Fitness for Girls and Physiology and Conditioning for Boys were the two new courses. In Physiology and Fitness the girls trained on the new gymnastics equipment and studied the body's muscles and system. The Physiology and Conditioning class spent three days studing the anatomy of the body. The other two were lifting weights and developing the body.

All the students in Physical Education classes had an opportunity to learn new skills on the new equipment along with playing baseball, tennis, badminton, basketball, and other sports.

General Shop added to HHS curriculum

Orienting Highland students into the industrial world of today was one of the jobs performed by the Industrial Arts Department, headed by Mr. Tom Murr.

During the 1972-73 school year a General Shop was added to the Industrial Arts curriculum. The program, was a nine-week rotational, consisting of four classes: Woods, Metals, Drafting, and Small engines.

Auto Mechanics class saw a change in the facilities when a new garage door was acquired. Cars could be driven inside; therefore, allowing repairs to be done inside.

Rearranging and repainting of the shop areas took place with a foundry area also added.

Art class students express their desire for new creativity

The Art Department tried new and different ideas in art. Art III sculptered life size heads from clay. They also made sterling silver rings and attempted stone settings.

Art I and II learned that a movie can be made without cameras. Art I drew pictures on films and Art II drew pictures on slides.

Mrs. Broyles, the student teacher, brought in stuffed animals and birds for the students to draw.

Pipe and drum corp separate from band in class periods

Highland Singers, Concert Choir, Mixed Chorus, Band, Pipe and Drum Corp and majorettes make up the music department. Band Director Hugh Callison was chairman of the department. Ken Steidle, in his first year, was assistant band director, and Randy Greene was in charge of the choir.

For the first time the pipe and drum corp and majorettes were a different class from the band so Mr. Callison could devote more time to both the band and pipe and drum corp.

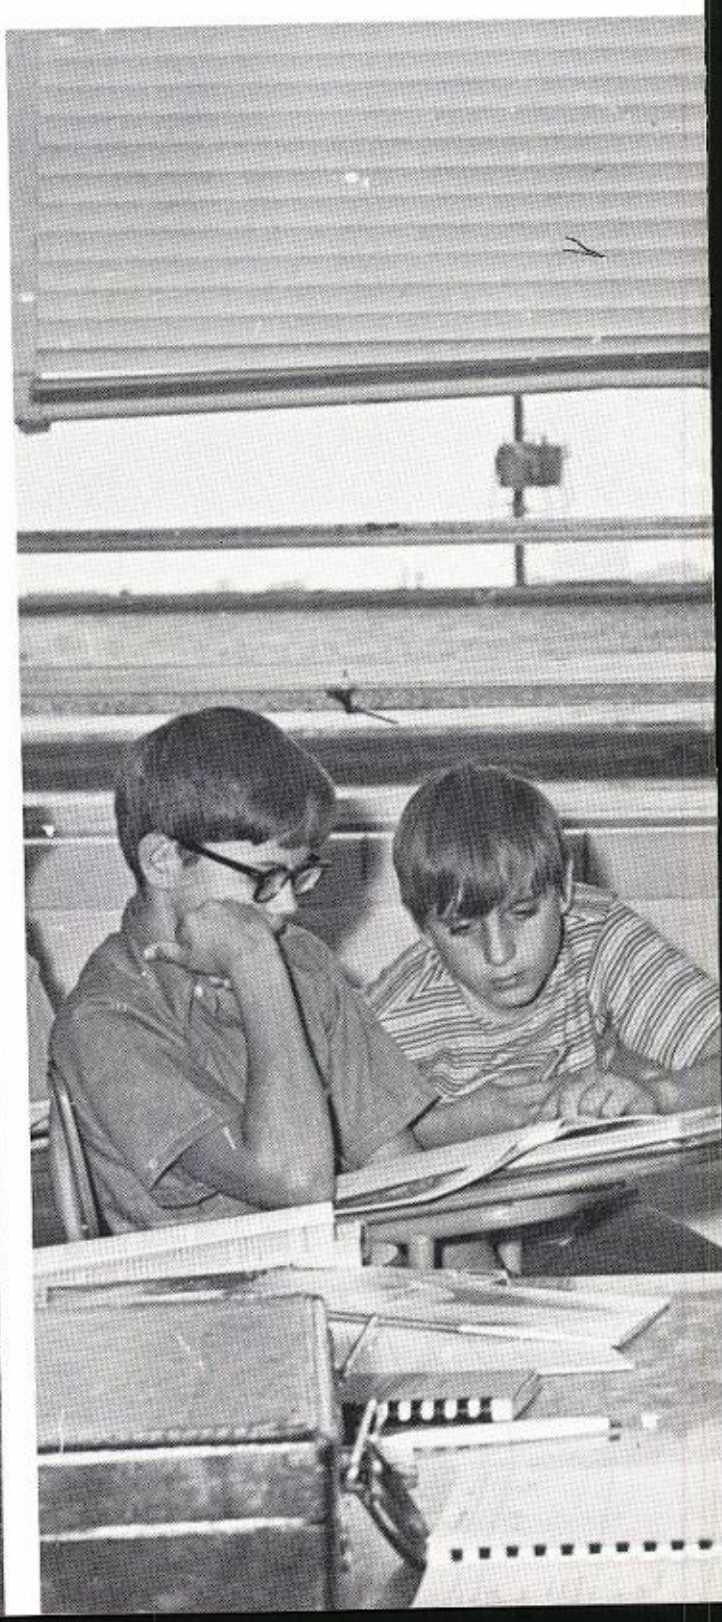
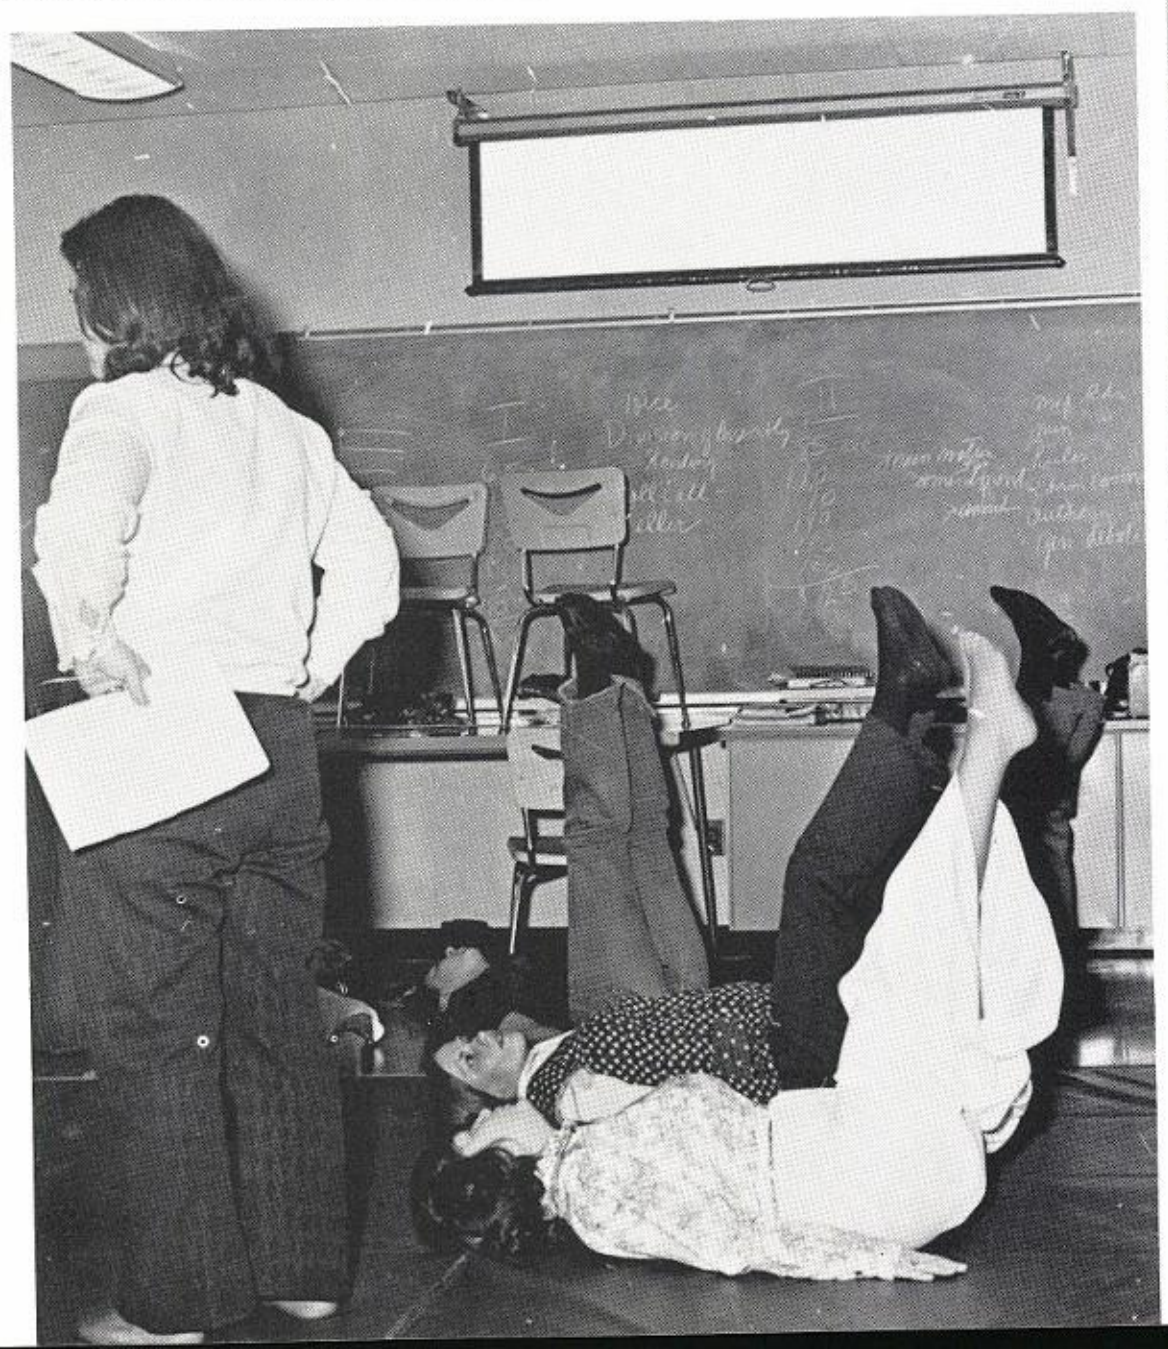
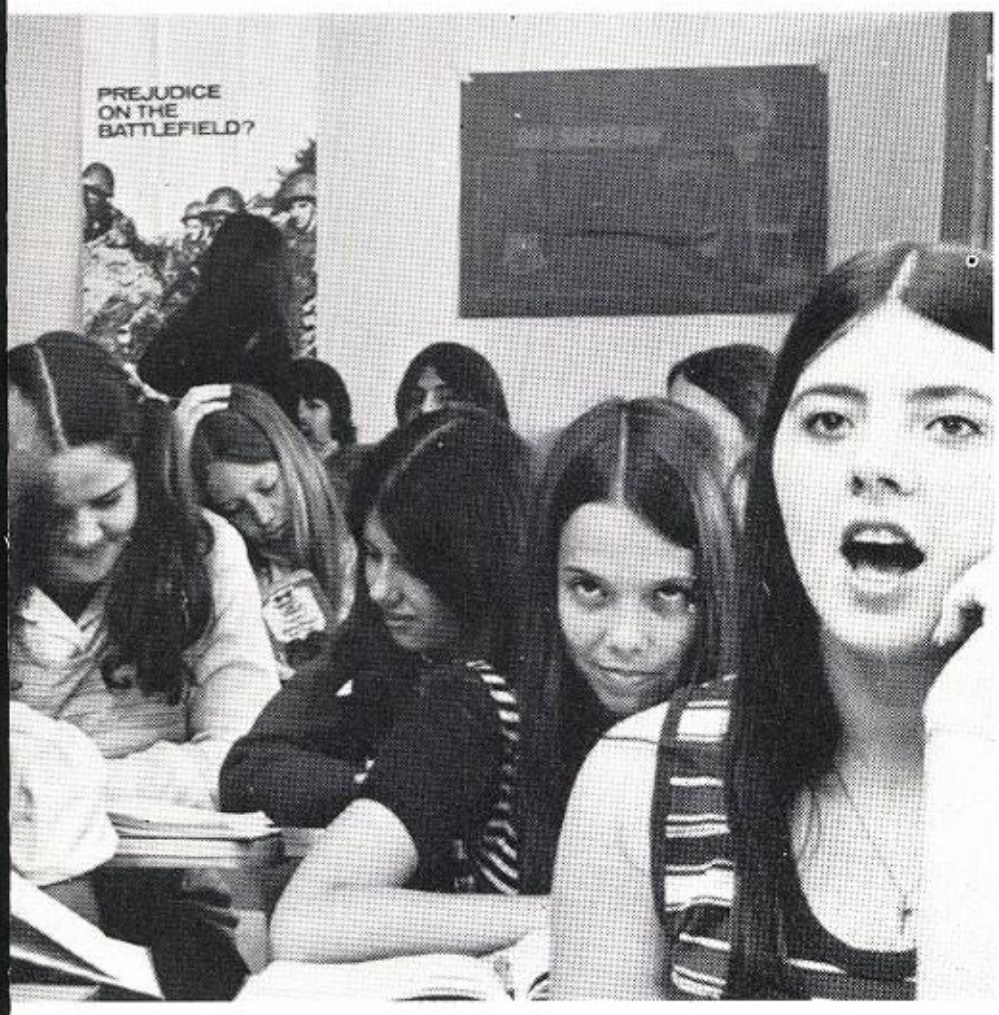
AFFECT PEOPLE?







Mr. Lay appointed department chairman

The newest thing for the Social Studies Department was organization of the Young Republicans, sponsored by Mr. Stephen Lay, and the Young Democratics, sponsored by Mrs. Phyllis Norris. In the organization of the clubs Mr. Lay commented, "Better plans for future ahead for the clubs." These clubs were organized for students who wanted to get more involved in politics. Mr. Stephen Lay was also appointed the social studies department chairman.

Litten resigns from AC School Board

On March 31, 1973, Mr. C. DeVar Litten ended an eight year term on the Anderson School Board. During seven of those years Mr. Litten was president of the board, which became Anderson Community Schools in 1972. Mr. Ray Turner, a Highland district representative and board vice-president, assumed the role as president on April 1 to finish Mr. Litten's term of office. Later in the spring, Mr. Litten's district, in the south part of Anderson, selected Mr. Ed Miller to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Litten.

Another major event concerning personnel was the retirement of seven administrators, four of which were from the central office. Retiring at the end of the 1972-73 school year were: Dr. Enoch Drumm, Assistant Supt.–Secondary Education; Mr. O. T. White, Director of Pupil Personnel Services; Mr. James Rady, Director of Public Relations; Mr. Durward Sluder, Principal of Southview school; Mr. Ward Hartzell, Director of Attendance; and Mr. Paul Redding, Assistant Principal at Madison Heights high school.

Board approves six room addition

This marks the second year for Highland High School to be under the jurisdiction of the ANDERSON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS, which were reorganized two years ago to include HHS. Under the direction of the ACS board and supervision of Henning Architects, HHS gained a new six room addition which was completed by second semester of the '72-73 year. The board also continued, for the second year, a student observer program, with Linda Roundtree filling that position for Highland.

Personnel remains unchanged in administrative wing

Personnel in the administrative wing remained unchanged in 1972-73. The offices, however, were moved around to better facilitate student needs. The Deans' offices were moved to the front of the wing, the counselors occupied the middle offices, and the athletic department took the end office for an exit to the gym.

Computer scheduling was under the direction of Mr. Keith Davis with emphasis on flexibility in student scheduling and grade slips. Teacher assignments and course designations were handled for the year by Mr. Meyerrose, assistant principal.

"Due Process"—a legal requirement—for student discipline was a major concern for the deans—Mr. Deck and Mrs. Wean. New forms and prodedures were outlined and handled through these offices.

Teaching innovations brought into HHS by student teachers

As the saying goes "Practice makes Perfect" and that's the goal which many student teachers attempted to reach as they experiemented with traditional methods of education plus a variety of innovations drawn from their recent college education. Seventeen student teachers came to Highland this year from Anderson College and Ball State University to try their skill–finding self-satisfaction as well as emotional frustrations when they undertook on-the-job training.

For a few, the year was filled with answers and security, with dreams that became reality. But for most it was a time of complex emotions and hopeless desires. We molded new friends and memories from the myriad of faces that confronted us. We were individuals, as different as merely wanting and finally achieving, but we united to carry on Highland traditions. As students we shared a world of books and classrooms, reaching out in our conquest of knowledge. Together we laughed and cried. Together we were Highland High School. Together we were . . . SEARCHING.

Assistant) proves he is athletically inclined as he bounces on the trampoline. Right: Senior Council members, Debby Radford and Mick Gilliam, take time out of their studies to recreate their own version of a once famous picture. "Shortchange Em" bring Seniors first float win

The class of '73 became aware of their last year at Highland as they strived to achieve success in Education, Athletics, and Leadership.

With the help of sponsors, Mr. Norris and Mr. Warfield, the Seniors chose class colors of Royal Blue and White and selected the Bird of Paradise as the class flower.

The Seniors won the float contest with "Shortchange 'em, Scots!", breaking the Juniors winning streak. Homecoming queen candidates were Stacey Skinner, Debby Radford, and Julie Showalter, with Leigh Hill reigning as Queen.

Commencement and Baccalaureate were combined into a one night graduation ceremony on May 31.

The motto, "Sacrifice today, succeed tomorrow," served as a backbone, as the Class of '73 moved away from old high school friends to advance in different directions of Life.

Junior Class faces numerous activities

Magazine sales and prom preparation were the main events undertaken by the class of '74'. Limited profits from magazine sales, which are used for the prom expenses and the '74 graduation, caused the Prom Committee to seek other sources of income.

"A Childhood Dream" was chosen as the 1973 prom theme and the popular rock group RASTUS was contracted to play for the evening.

Pam Scott represented the Junior Class as Homecoming princess and their float "A Whale of a Victory" won second place.

Class of '75 chooses Colors, Jackets, Rings

In the fall of 1972, the sophomore class began the year as every other sophomore class before them. By Christmas vacation, it was hard to believe so many activities had taken place. Class colors of purple and white were chosen, class jackets and sweaters had been purchased, and class rings were ordered.

With the start of the new year class rings arrived and sophomores were officially designated the class of '75. They looked forward to becoming juniors, then seniors and watching their last year at Highland pass by them. It was indeed a sad thought, but the Class of '75 was ready to move on.

Brenda Brauner reigns as freshman princess

"A Toast to a Victory" was the float theme for the Freshman as they started their first year of High School traditions. Brenda Brauner reigned as the Freshman Homecoming princess, escorted by Bruce Cook.

Kathy Brown, Beth Hollon, Erinn Mack, and Vickie Stanley backed the Freshman basketball team as they represented their class as cheerleaders.

Freshman boys were given the chance to learn the skill of wrestling by becoming members of the first wrestling team.

Eighth grade heads recycling project

The Class of '77 had a busy year as students and teachers worked together planning projects and field trips. One of the projects was the recycling of paper, glass, and aluminum. Three separate groups were taken to Chicago where they visited the Museum of Science and Industry, Shedd Aquarium, Adler Planetarium, and the John Hancock Building. Also the Jr. High Science Club went to Mammoth Cave in Kentucky.

Becky Campbell, Lisa Danner, and Debbie Stone, sparked their classmates at ballgames by leading cheers for the teams.

Full social agenda greets Class of '78

For the newest class of Highlanders the year began with halls full of upperclassmen and a frantic search for classes. But with time the new faces became new friends. Field trips to the Madison County Jail, the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago and Mammoth Cave in Kentucky by groups of junior high students highlighted the year. Also on the social agenda was the Junior High Spring Music Festival at which Miss Heather was crowned.

The spirit of '78 was headed by cheerleaders Valerie Barger, Joy Engle, LeighAnn Schattner, and Sherry White.

BUSINESS COMMUNITY

Businesses provided an opportunity for the application of new found knowledge. We learned to buy with caution and make the most of money earned in part-time jobs. Wage and price controls, inflation, and taxes caused many students to take a closer look at the inner workings of businesses. Highlanders learned from the past and looked toward the future when they would become the employers and employees of our business community. New buildings and governmental facilities lent an air of optimism to downtown Anderson and proved that Anderson area businesses were . . . BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE.

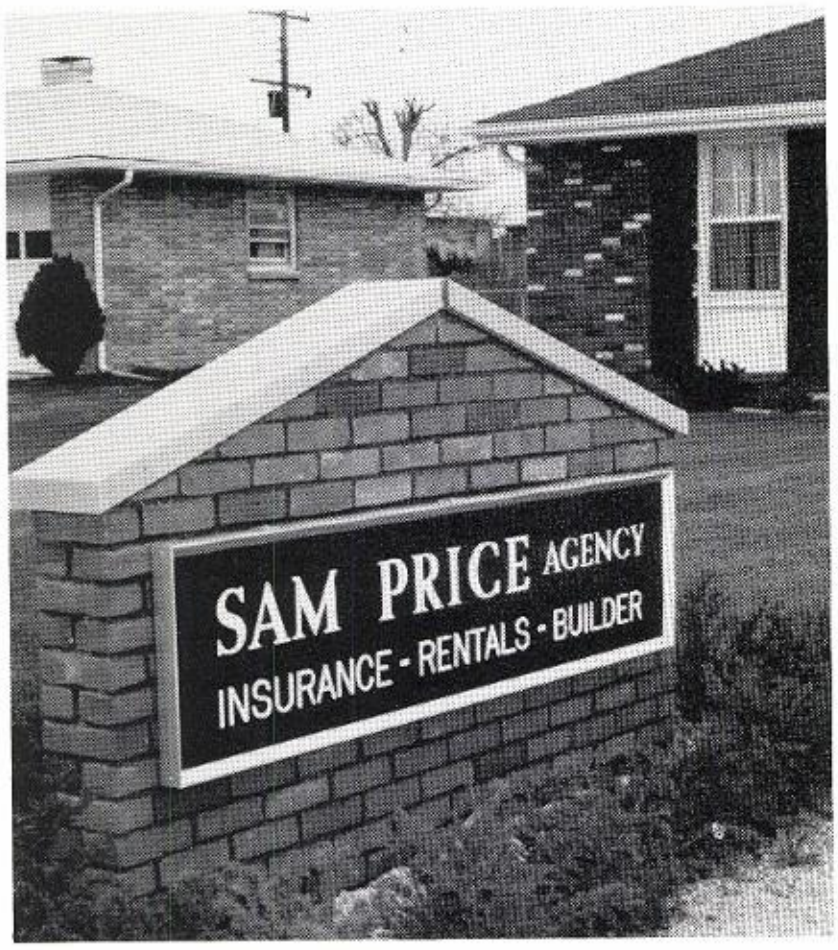
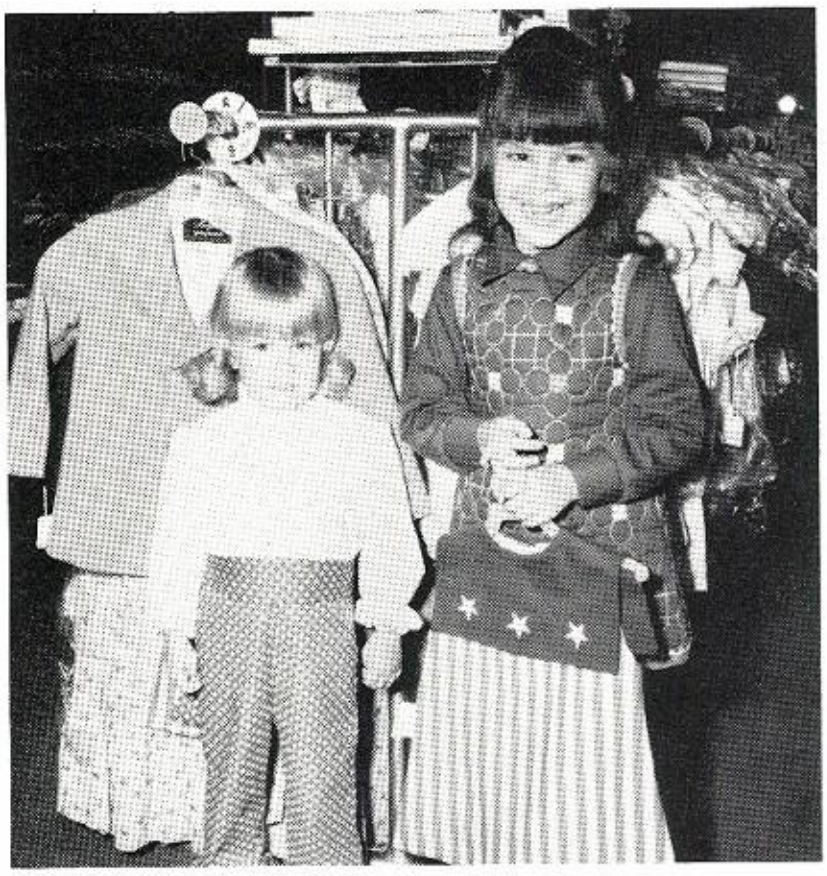
The Sam Price Agency can handle your insurance, rental, or building needs with no trouble at all. One fine example of their work, is the Meadow Wood Addition, located not far from Highland High School.





Anderson Bargain Store

2230 Columbus Avenue

Well known name brands of clothing are able to be purchased at discount prices at the Anderson Bargain Store. Melissa and Tiffany Mahfouz can always find outfits to suit their taste and also have a price that "even a mother could love."

Chesterfield Lumber Co.

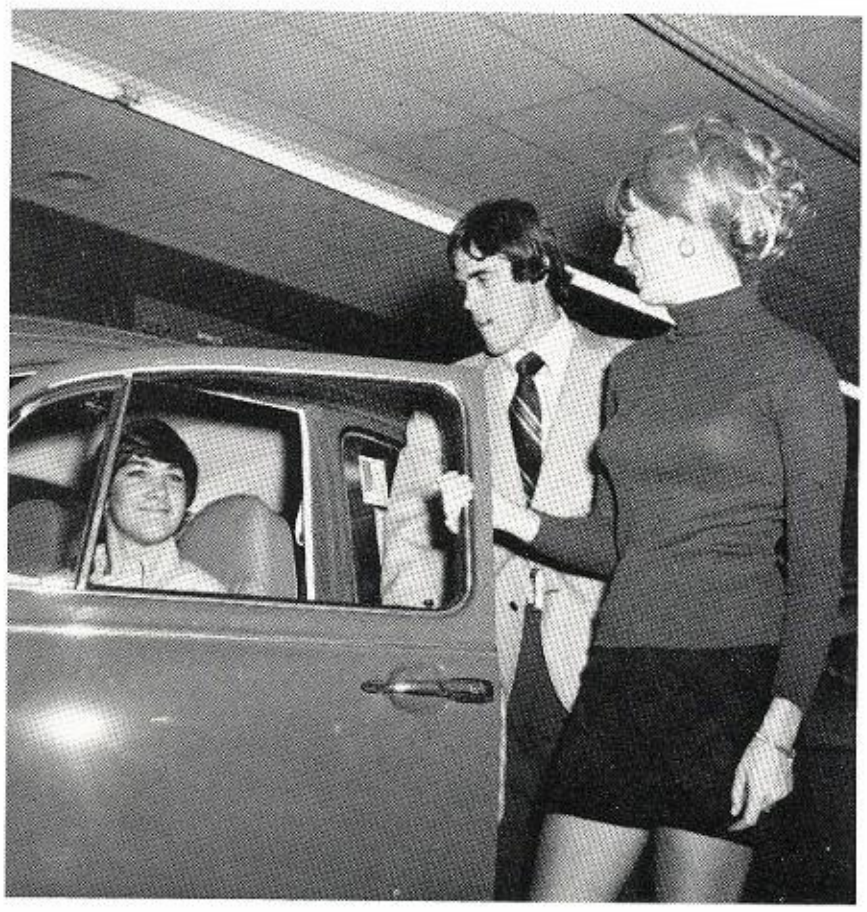
232 Anderson Road

DEBBIE STEWART finds that she can get the best of service from ICE student-worker, PAM HARVEY. Chesterfield Lumber Company also can give you the best of service for your money. Builders' supplies and paints are but a few of the fine quality products Chesterfield Lumber can offer.

Eberbach Motors

3701 St. Rd. 9 N.

Need a smaller car? A Volkswagen would be a fine choice. Not only is it a smaller car, but a V.W. gets good gas mileage. With the gas shortage at its peak it would be nice to own a car that doesn't "eat up the gas". Annie Stock and Mike Hanna can tell by his expression that GREG YUST likes the feeling of being behind the wheel of this '73 Eberbach Volkswagen



First National Bank

8th and Main

The 1st National Bank of Madison County is "a full service bank". Being in service since 1892, 1st National concentrates on the generation of today—the people of tomorrow. JILL ENGLE and TODD DIXON find the "people hours" suited to fit all their needs.

Guide Lamp

2915 Pendleton Avenue

Two-year-old Robin Waters poses with one of the many plastic parts produced in Anderson by General Motors' Guide Lamp Division. Designed for one of the 1973 GM car lines, it is a single piece of reinforced plastic molded to serve three functions: fan shroud, windshield washer jar and radiator overflow tank. Liquid levels in the two reservoirs can be easily seen through the translucent plastic.

Cook's Supermarket

8th and 109 By Pass

17th and Jackson

8th and Madison

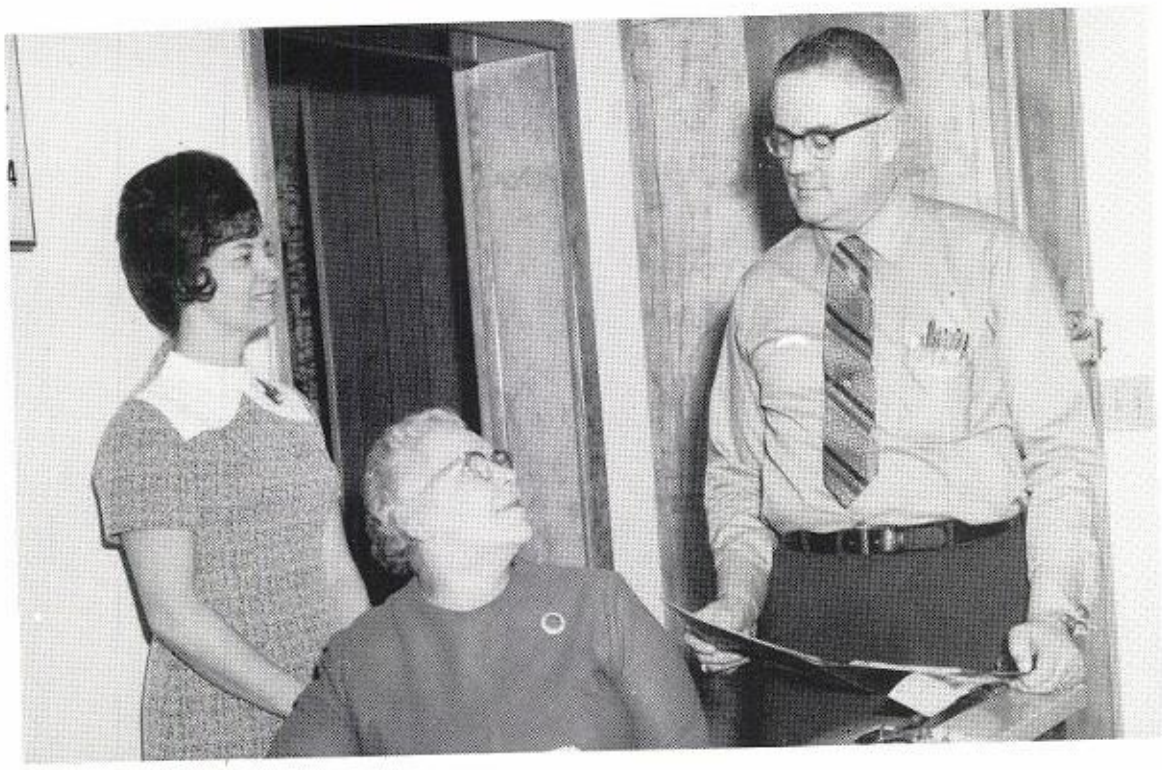
38th and Main

With the "meat freeze" in effect, Cook's considers you and your grocery budget. Prime and choice meats are freshly cut, and foods from counter to freezer are of the top choice. Household products and other non-food products can be found at each of the four locations. RANDY COOK and his father, Mr. Leonard Cook, provides friendly service and plenty of parking space for the customers.

C & J Flowers

1927 N. Madison Ave.

For weddings, hospital arrangements, funerals, and anniversaries, C & J puts their most into their flower arrangements. PATTY SPARKS and DeELLEN SMITH realize thqt C & J not only specialize in cut flowers but also in artificial flower arrangements.



Gib Warfield Insurance

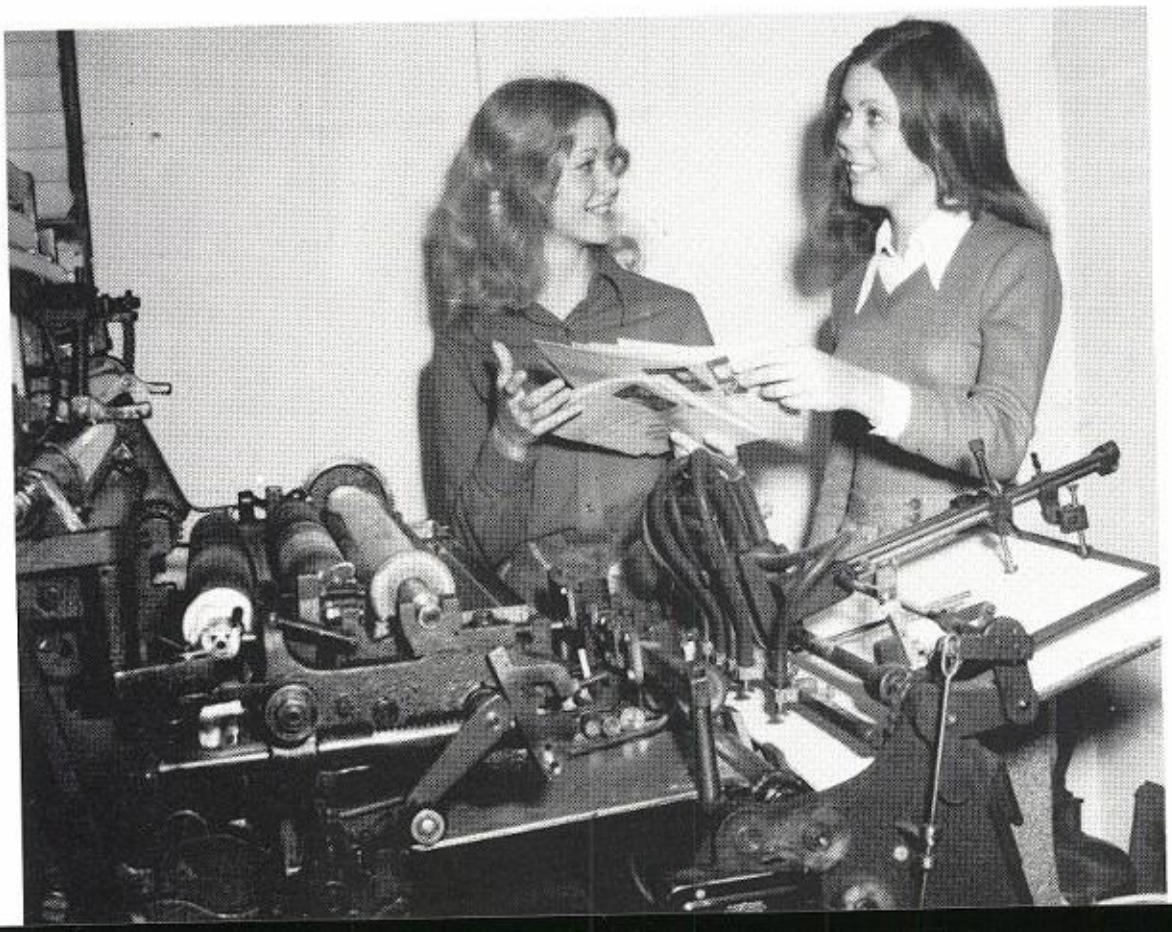
33 E. Main St.

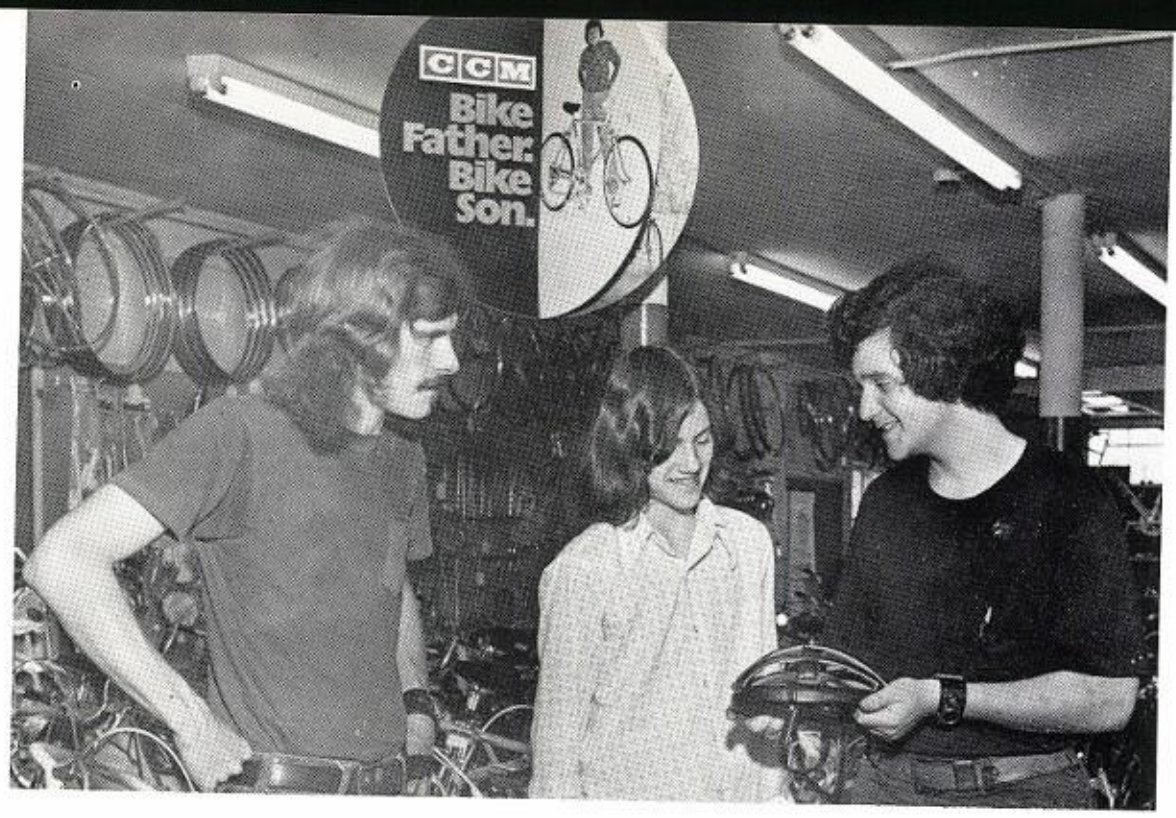
Gib Warfield and his secretaries talk over the documents of one of their clients. "Your independent insurance agent serves you first." If you have insurance problems, see Gib Warfield Insurance Agency.

Reeder Printing

1629 Pearl Street

For special occasions where invitations are needed, Reeder Printing contributes special work towards the job. SHIRLEY TUDOR and ALICE WEST realize that if they ever need printing work done—Reeder Printing will do it best.





Bicycle World

715 John Street

Greg Abbott and CHUCK ROSSEN assist Don Etchison in finding headgear for when riding the 10-speed bicycle he recently purchased. Bicycles of every type, and extra parts to go with the bike can be bought at Bicycle World, a business that all ages enjoy visiting.

Acme Paving

104 East Hartman Road

Known throughout Anderson and the surrounding cities, members of the Acme Paving Company take pride in their business and their work. Fine asphalt paving is but one of the fine jobs Acme Paving performs. With a new location, Acme is ready to serve you.

Fridley's Duraclean

R. R. #7 Box 67

Duraclean's exclusive absorption process cleans your carpets and furniture right in your home . . . and they are dry in no time. Duraclean removes all the soil without ruinous soaking or harsh mechanical scrubbing. CHARLIE FRIDLEY is ready to give another customer Duraclean Service.

Advertisers, Activities, and Faculty—1972-1973

The 1973 index is divided into four sections for your convenience: major activities, advertisers, faculty, and students. The first number following each student's name and grade indicates where the student may be found in the class album section. No number after the grade number means that the student attended Highland but does not have a picture in the album section.

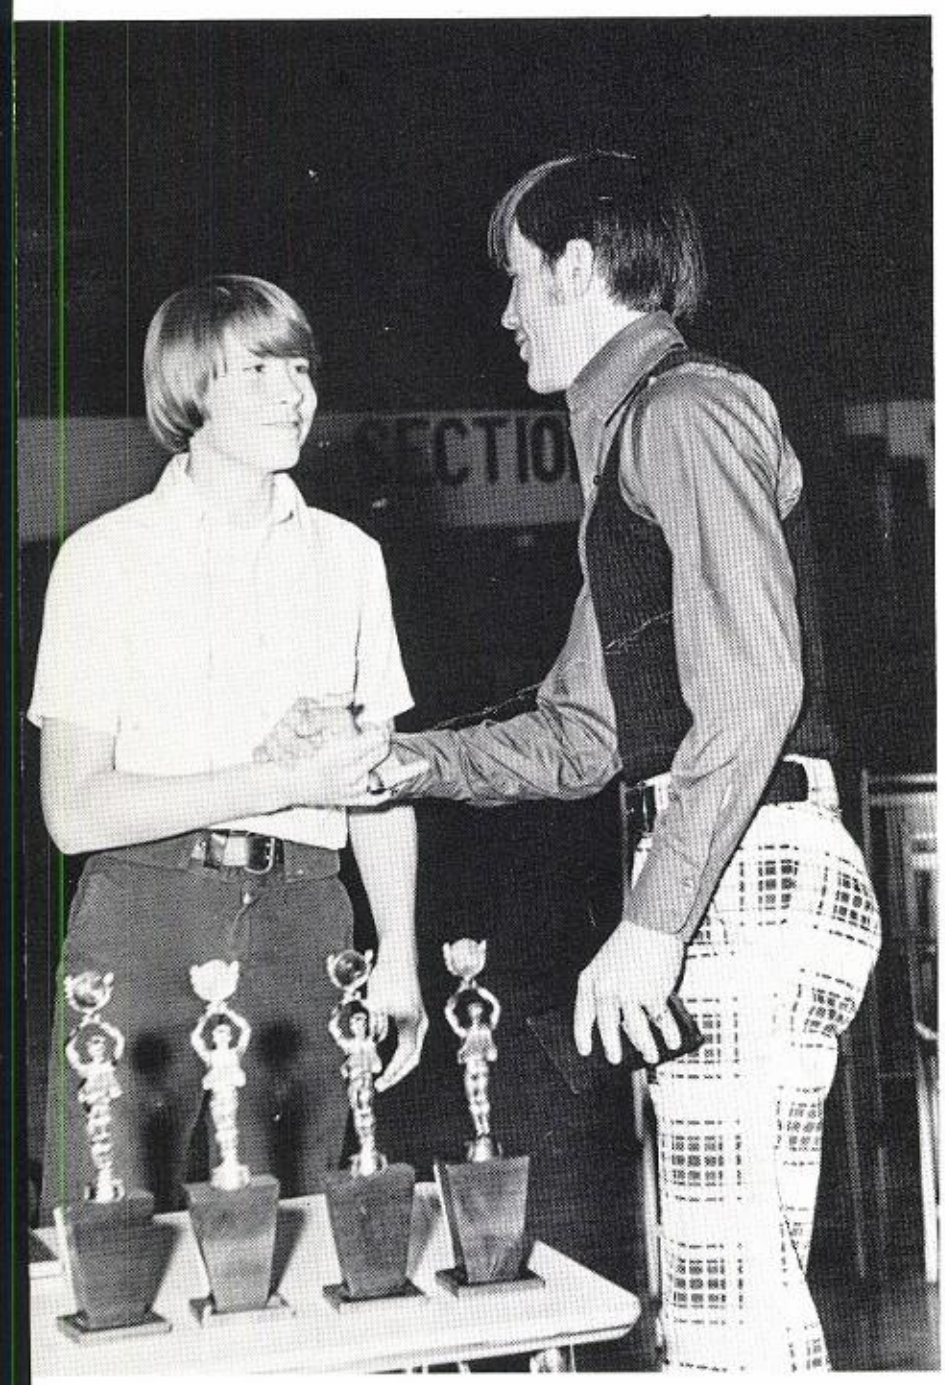
Unsuspecting students receive awards

Most of the awards presented at the annual awards convocation were unannounced so as to make the presentations more interesting, according to Student Council President John Ranshaw. He also stated that organizations had been encouraged to have students present the awards instead of faculty sponsors, as was the past procedure. Above: Terri Crull awards Carson Hinds for his completion of six years of Math in four years of high school on Senior High Awards Day, May 18, 1973. Right: Mrs. Charlotte Hungste awards Debbie Parrish with the Anderson Business and Professional Women's Club award.

Left: Mr. Forrest, head of the ICE program, awards Ron Rich with both the Personal Interview award and the Extemporaneous Speaking award.



Left: Drama sponsor Ron Clark gives the award announcement responsibility to Rick Garrett, as he presents fellow Drama Club member Tom Castor the Outstanding Performance award for his performance in"The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail". Above: Jan Brewer presents Mary Duquaine with the Creative Writing award.

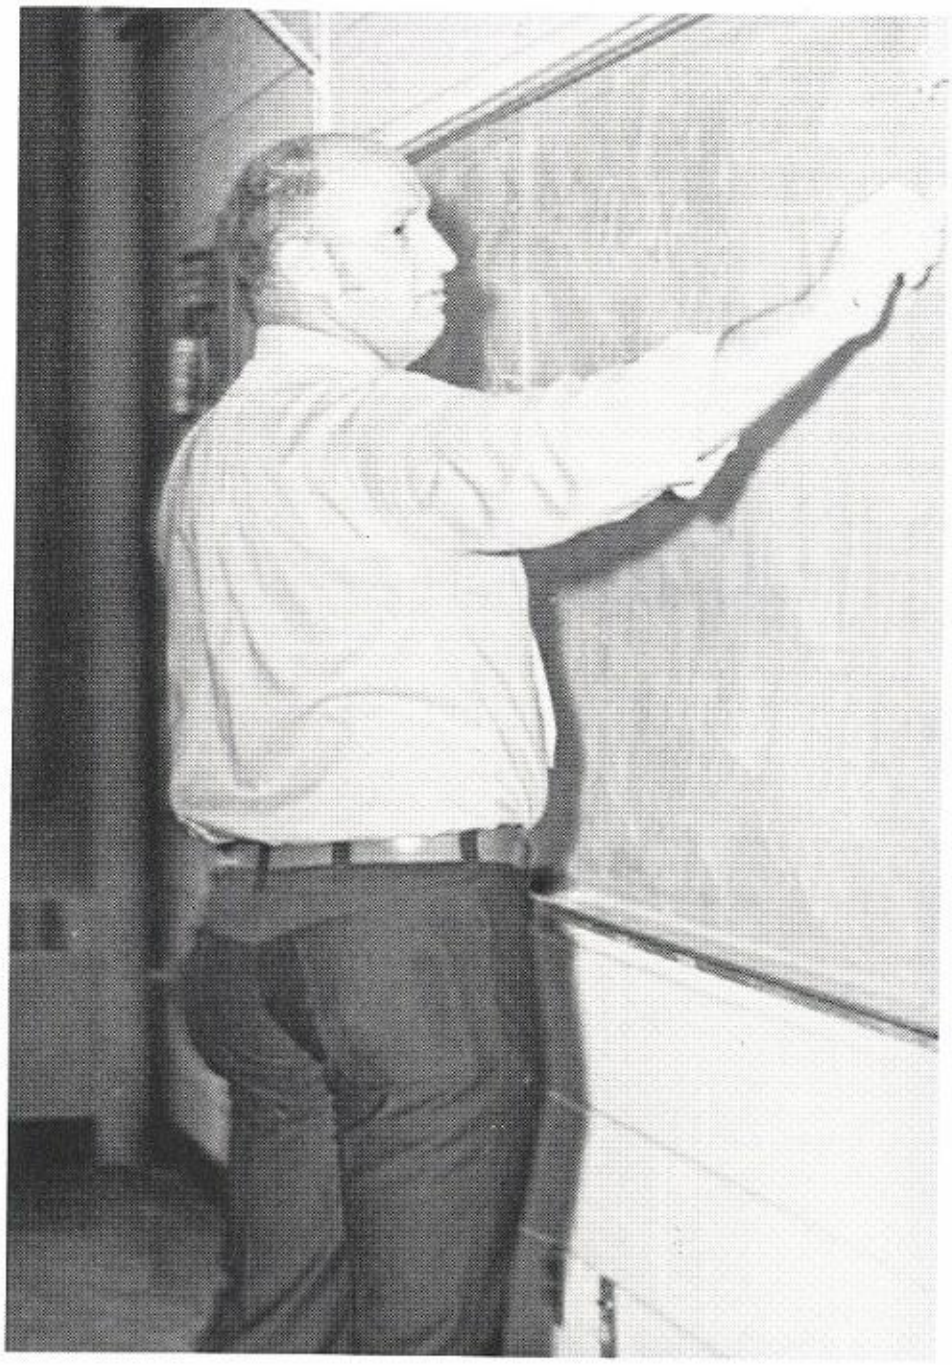
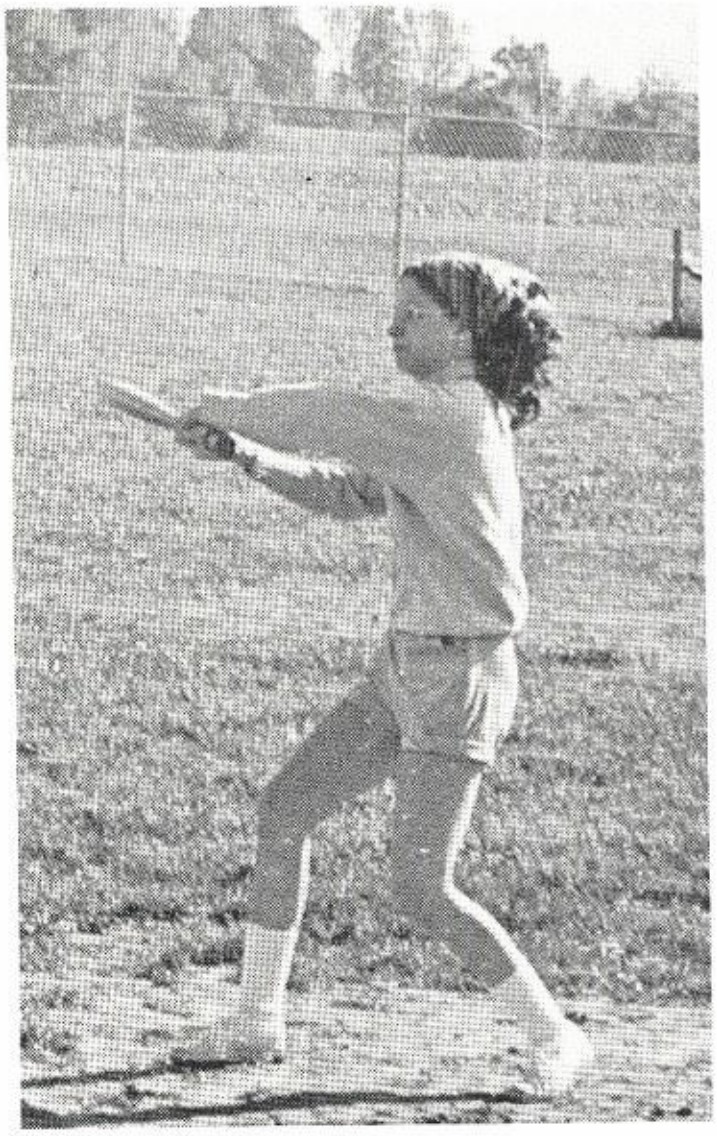
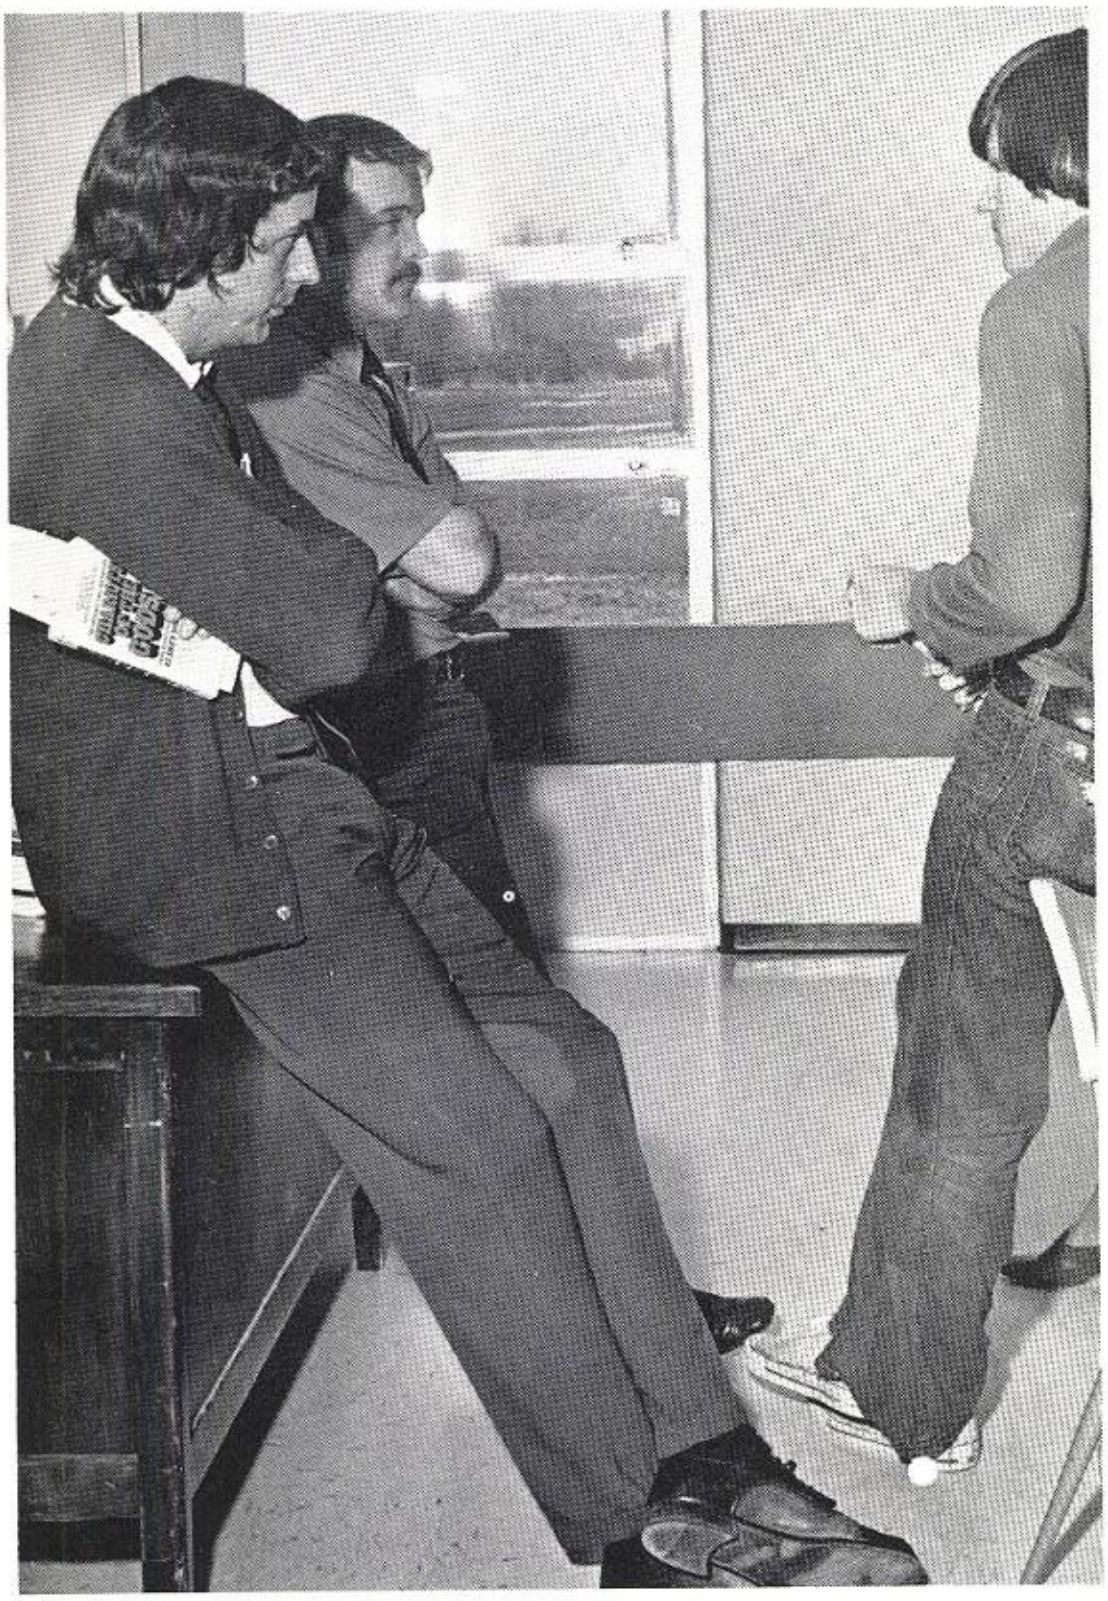
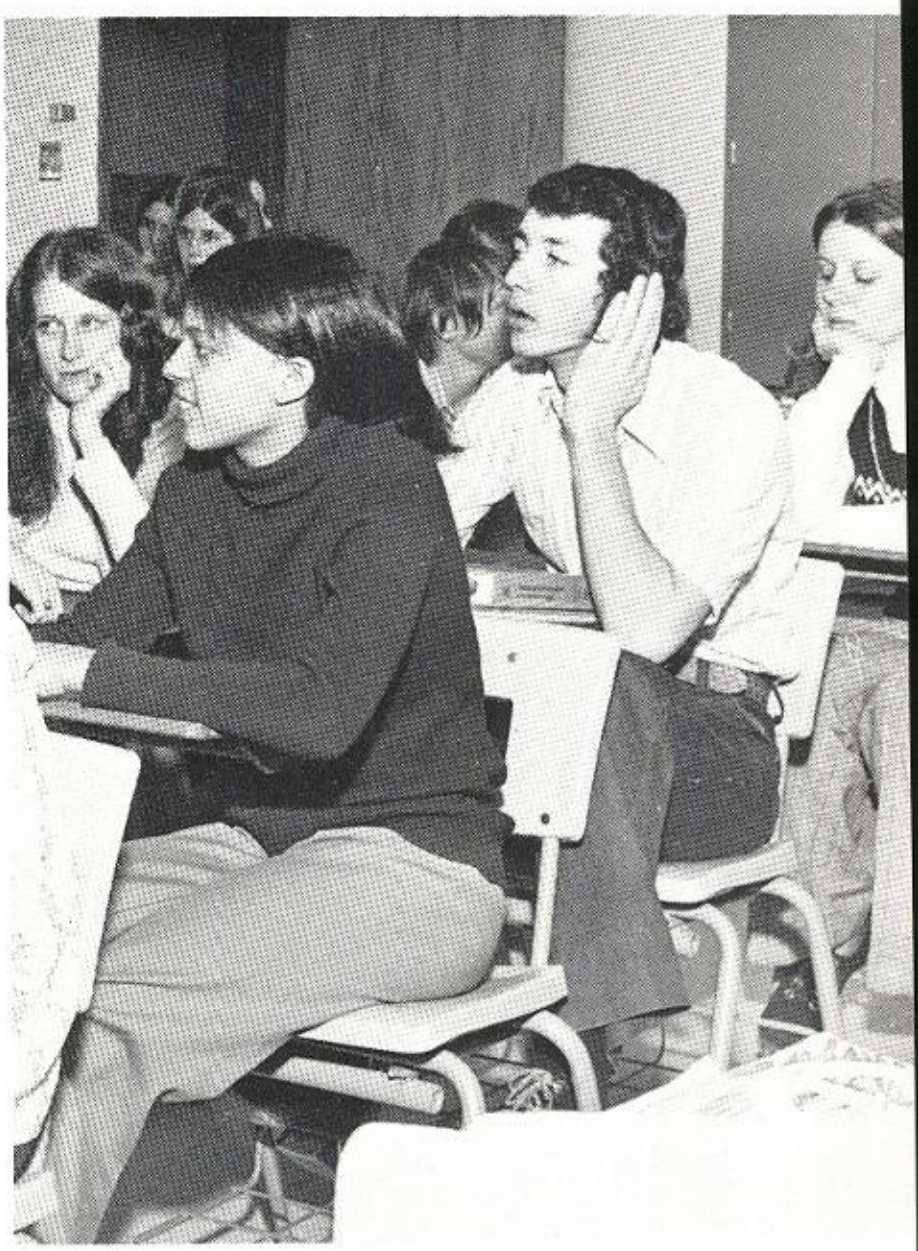
What made the 1973 HHS school year?

Involvement at HHS was the key to a successful and enjoyable year. Participation in class, clubs, organizations, let the students express themselves in various ways as they saw their role in life at HHS. Triumph, joy, defeat, pride and dignity were a part of the life at HHS as students carried out the traditions of a Highlander. As one student stated, "Highland is what the students, faculty, and administration make it."





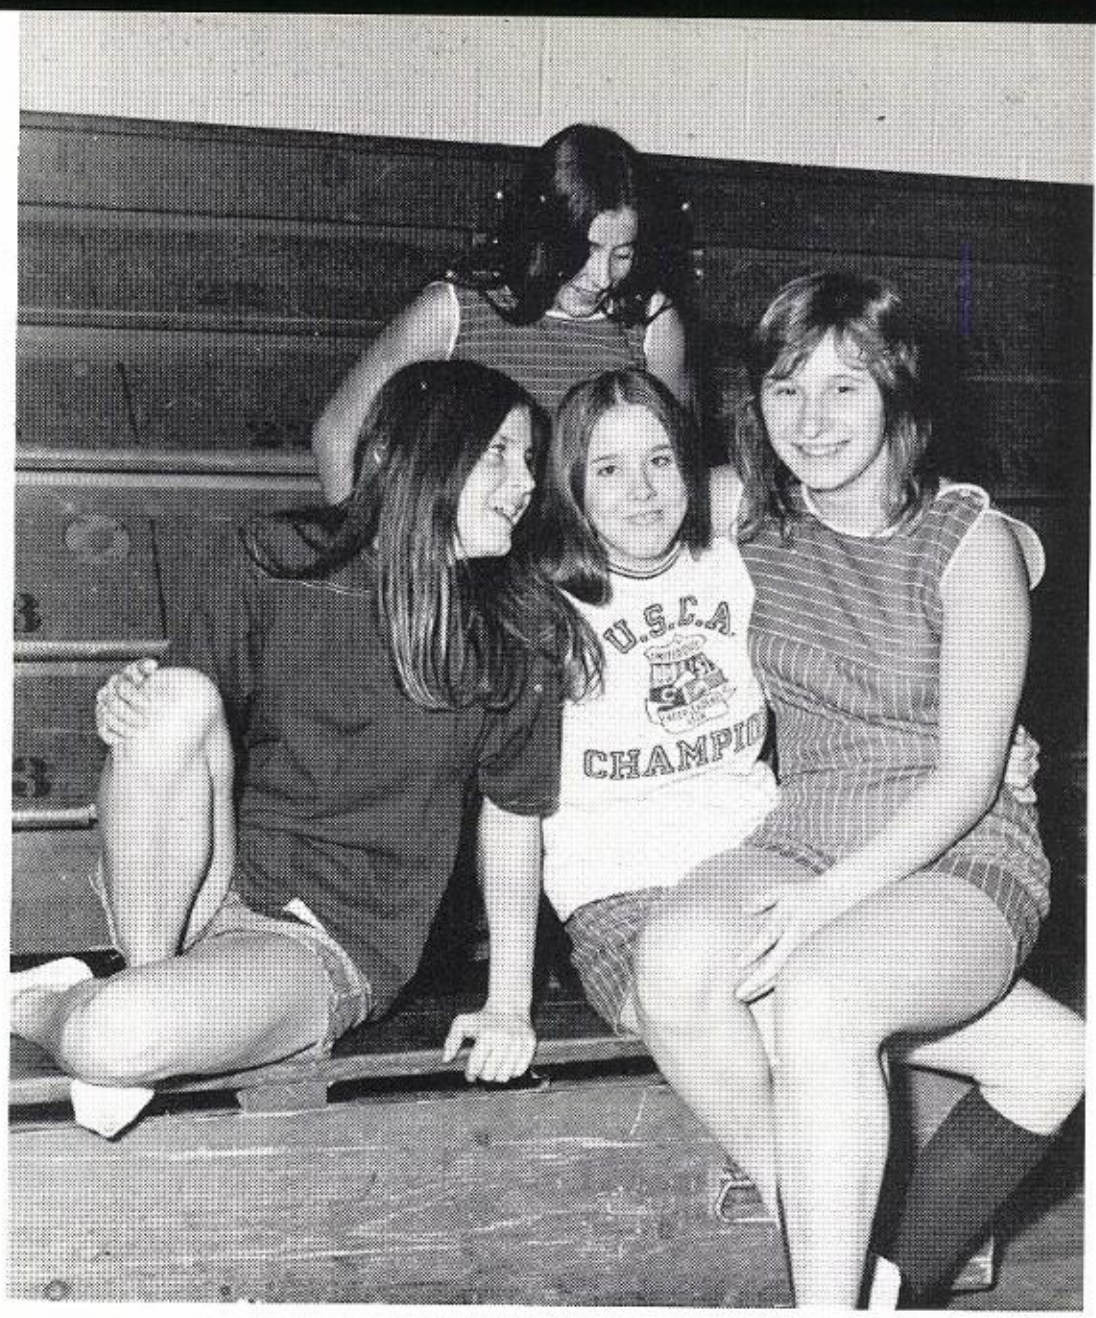


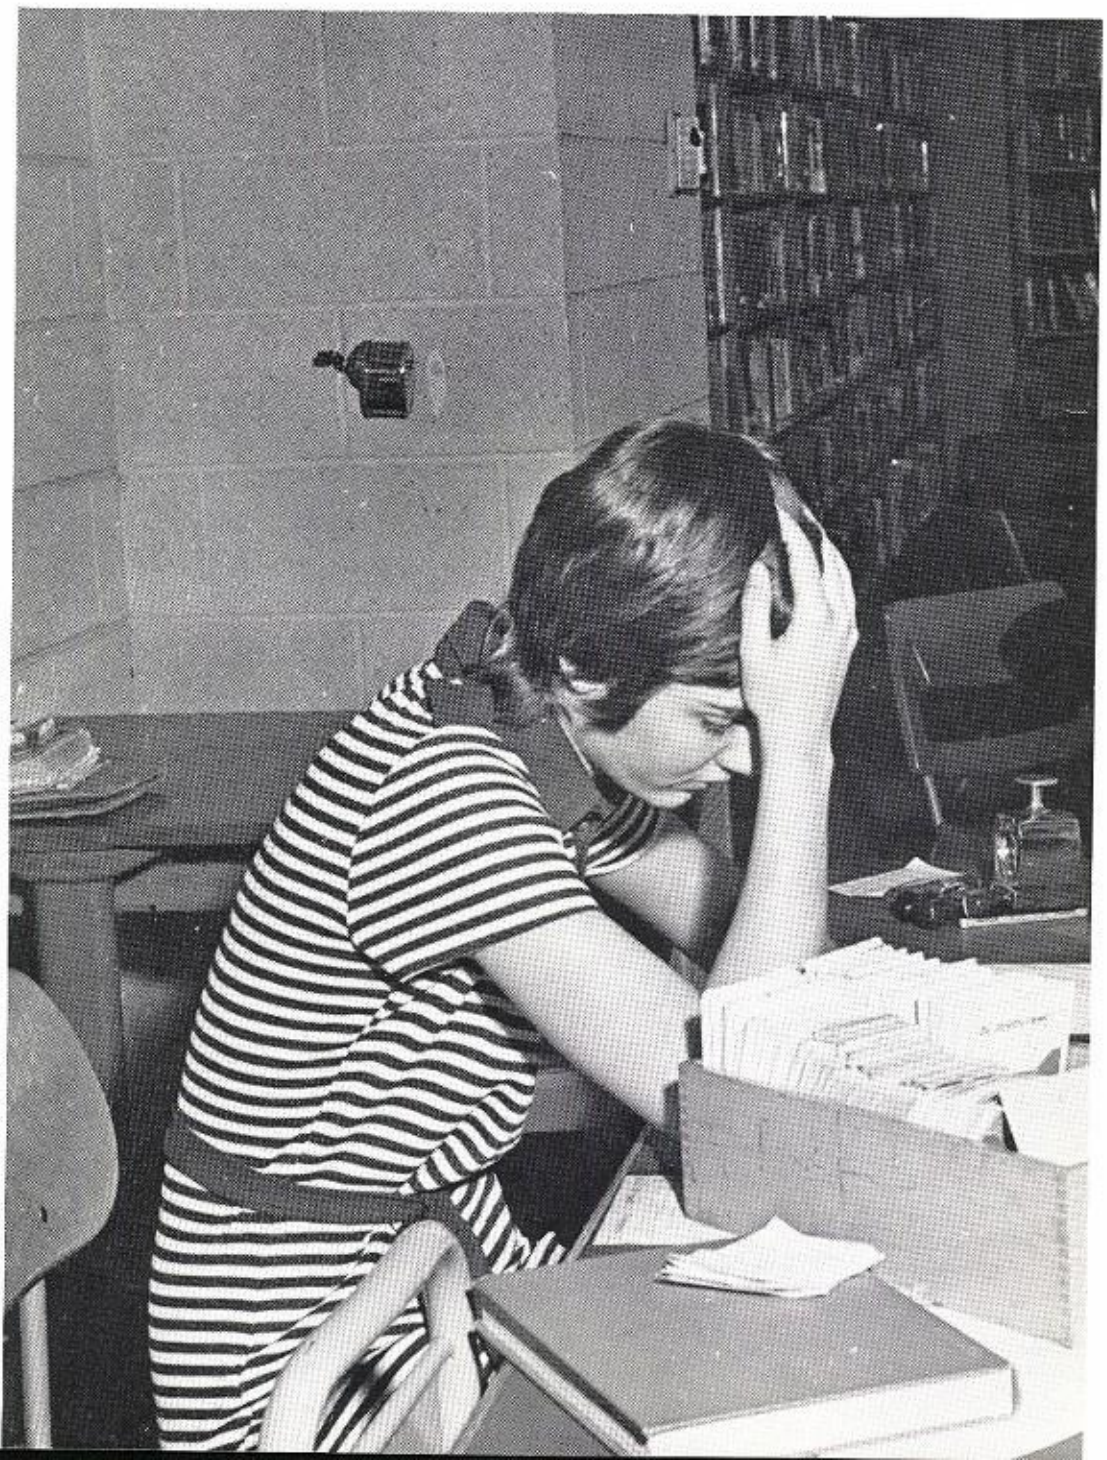


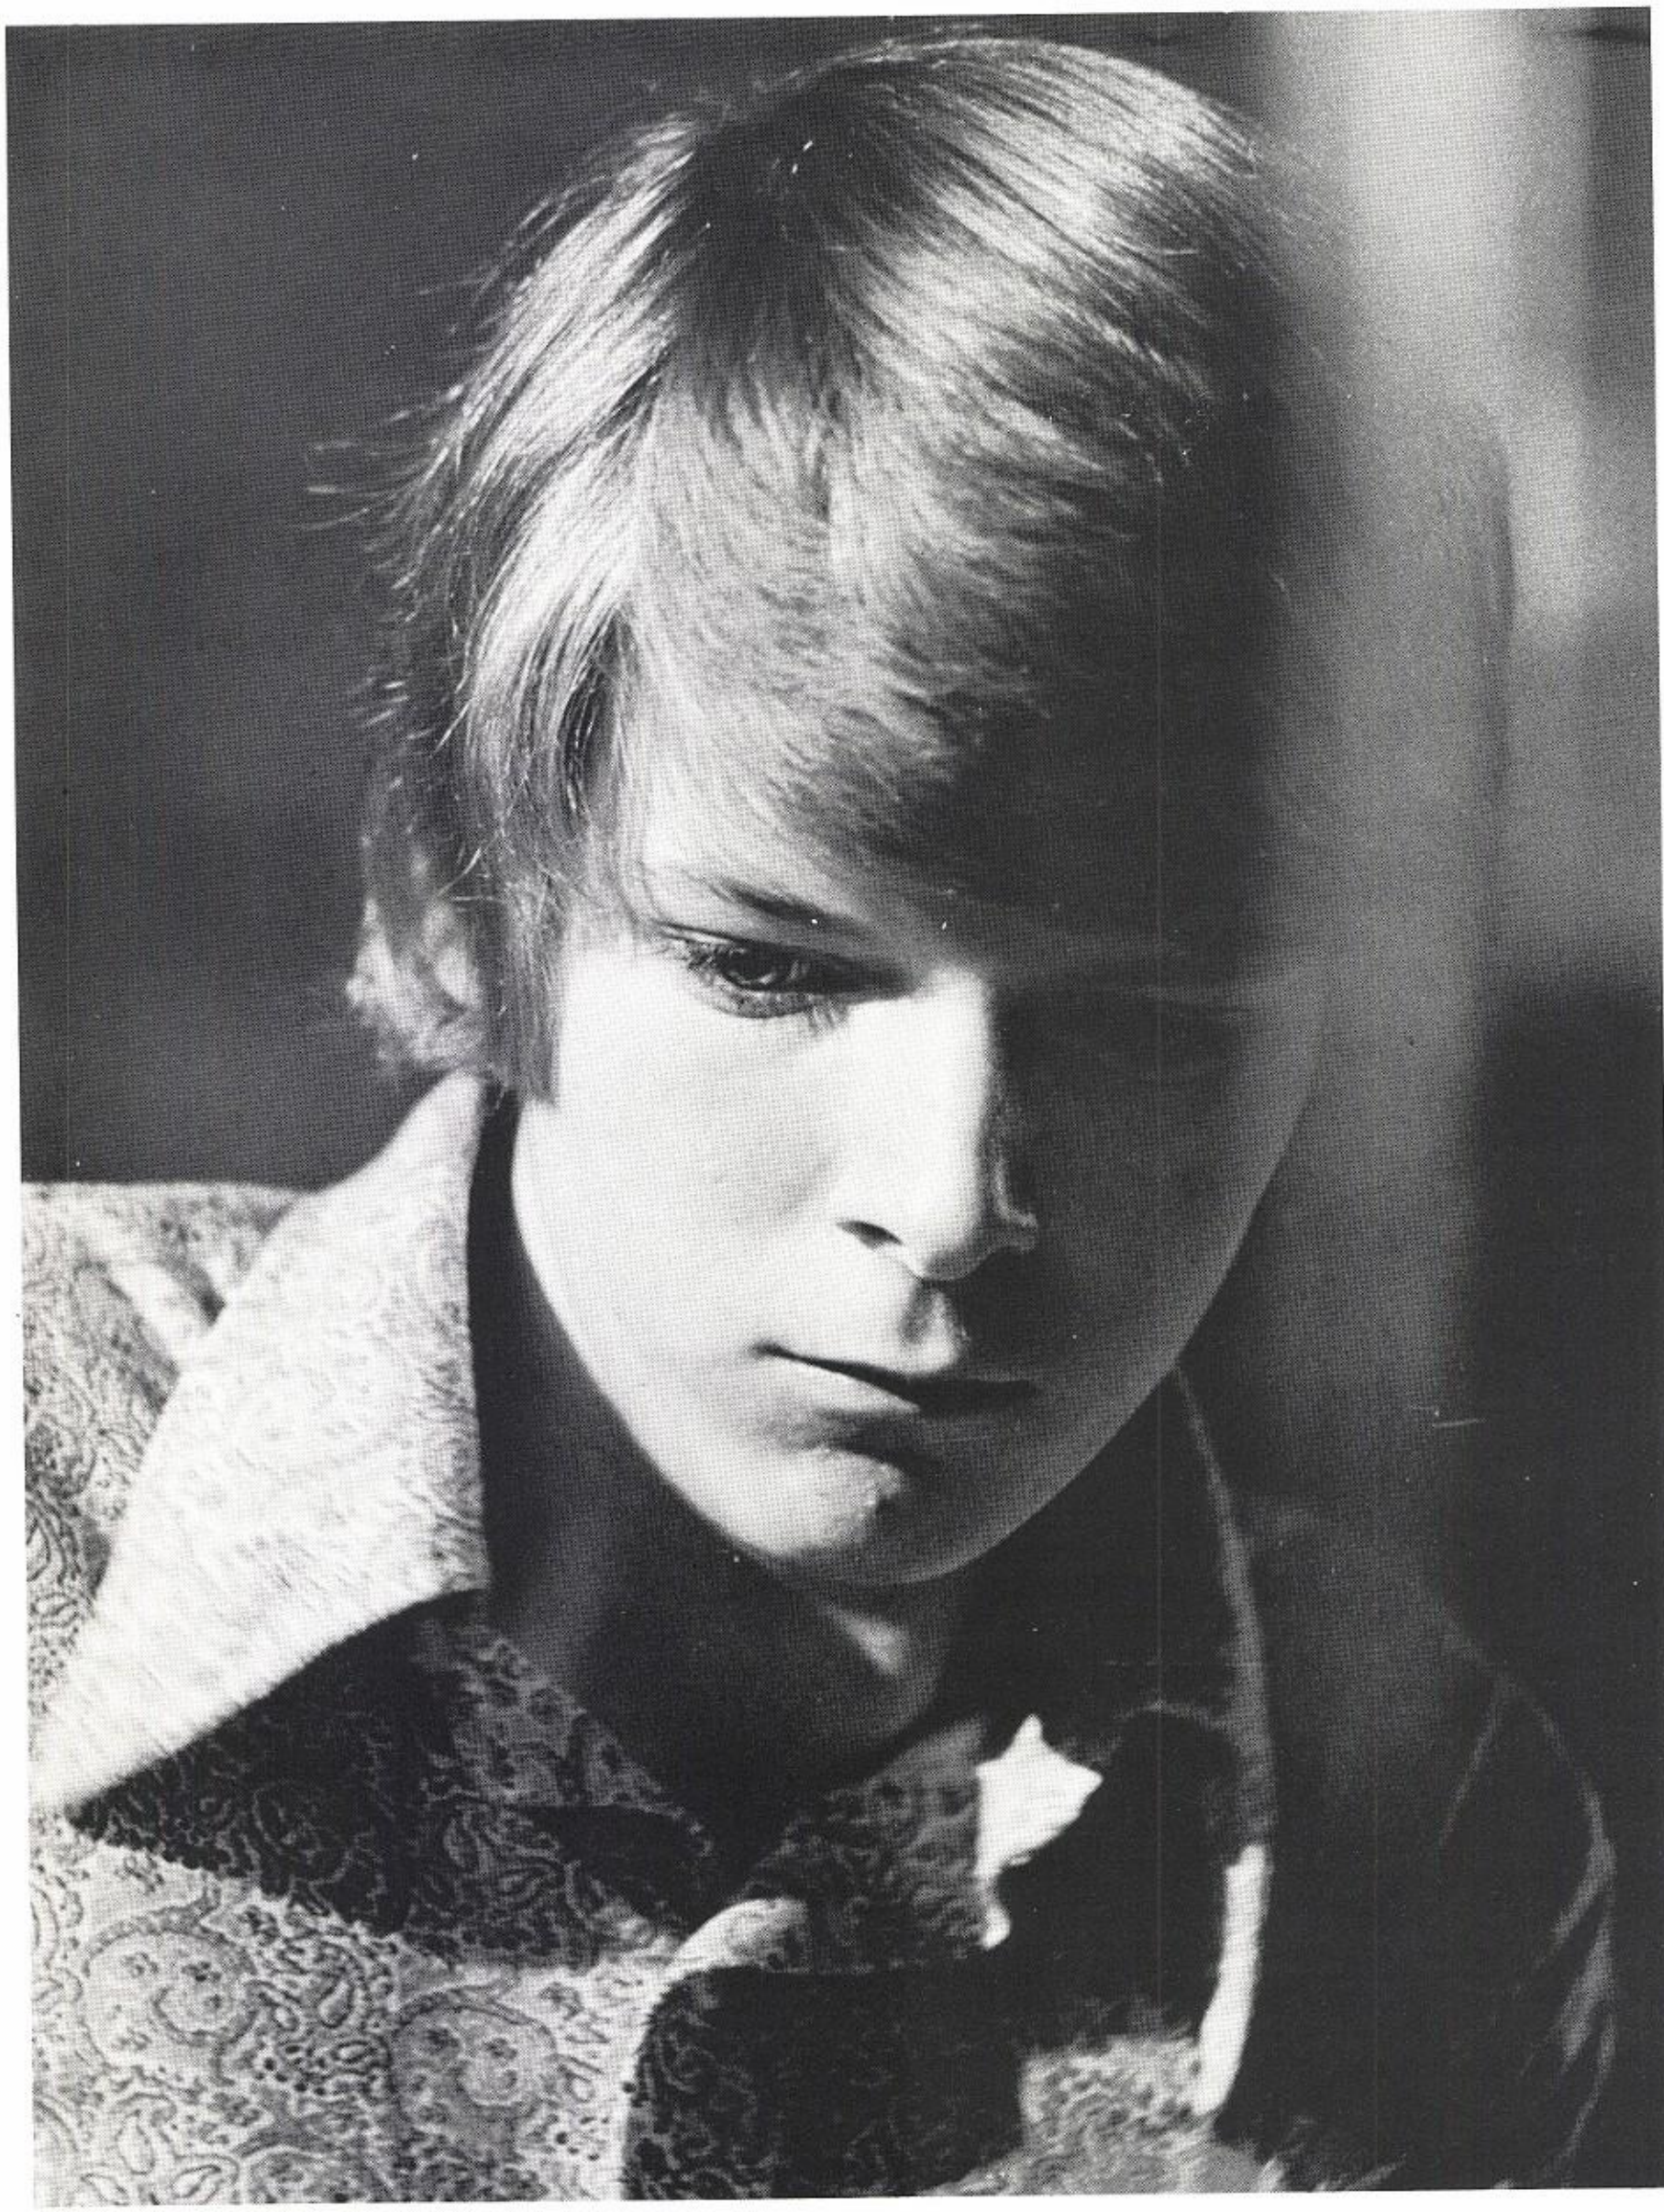
Scots look forward to close of '73 school year

Although the '73 school year holds many memorable moments to HHS students, summertime was looked forward to and became reality on May 31 at 11:00 p.m.

The seventh sunny day of May enveloped students as they departed Highland to use their knowledge of another school year. It was a traditional summer day.







Highlanders say: "This year has been . . ."

Throughout the year, the staff and photographers worked continuously to retain the spirit of the 1972-73 year at Highland High Shool for the purpose of creating a memorable yearbook. I am deeply grateful for their devotion and endeavors.

Mr. Robert Reeder, our advisor, was ever so patient, and his guidance brought us through the year. My deepest thanks go to our Paragon Representative, Mr. Larry Glaze, for his help in selecting the cover, design, and special effects of the '73 Highlander.

Senior portraits, organization pictures, and special events photos were taken by Mr. Ron Plum of Reid's Studio.

To the faculty, administration, and student body, I sincerely appreciate your cooperation in the production of the Highlander.

My special thanks go to Mrs. Peggy Richards for the art work on the score blocks; Doyle Fox–Hoosier Pictures Inc. for underclass pictures; Mike Brown–a Highland graduate and former yearbook staff member, who provided the staff with many outstanding photos of Highland activities; Harvey Riedel–professional photographer; Anderson Newspapers Inc.; and World Wide Photos for the pictures of the U.S. Presidents.

The 1973 Highlander was printed by Paragon Press in Montgomery, Alabama and distributed on August 19, 1973.

Century Expanded with Italics was selected for the type in the yearbook with the exception of the Division pages and the Community Business Section. Spartan Medium was used in the Community Business Section and Gothic Bold for the Division pages, all of which was printed on Calais paper.

Now that the last deadline has been met and the book is being printed, we say THANK YOU to the following people for jumping in and helping us at the last minute:

Lavonne Thomas and Dianne Engle for organizing the index; Debbie Dreibelbis for typing the index; Connie Stevens– a 1972 staffer–for returning to help finalize layouts; Joan Schleuder, Jill Emshwiller, Sharon Ebbert, and Barthy Cox for their valuable assistance at the typewriter and elsewhere; the Journalism I class and TARTAN staff for being helpful and patient; and finally, the custodians who extended their courtesy and learned what a deadline is.
